THE Republicans of Beaver county yesterday placed in nomination the following excellent ticket: For Assembly, Thomas Nicholson; Prothonotary, John Coughey; Treasurer, Capt. E. Barnes; Commissioner, Wm. Ewing; Associate Judge, Hon. M. Lawrence. Resolutions in favor of General W. W. Irwin for State Treasurer, and in favor of a free railroad law were passed. Hon. M. S. Quay and Col. J. Weyand were elected delegates to the State Convention, with instructions to vote first for Hon. H. W. Williams, of Pittsburgh, for Supreme Judge, and after him for Judge Pearson.

GOTLEIB WILLIAMS, who is to be hung in Philadelphia to-day for the murder of Mrs. Miller, an aged lady, has made a full confession of his guilt.

IT IS said the Government officials of Panama have held a meeting, at which it was resolved to declare the Isthmus independent of the Federal rule, if the late intelligence from Bogota is confirmed by the mail to arrive from the interior of Columbia on the 29th inst.

A PETITION from the citizens of Louisiana has resulted in the countermanding of General Sheridan's order by the President removing the State Board of Commissioners. The old Board will therefore proceed with their surveys and repairs.

ERNEST C. WALLACE, one of the editors and proprietors of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, died yesterday morning at Yonkers, New York, of consumption. Mr. Wallace, who was a native of Pittsburgh, was connected with the Philadelphia press since 1854, and was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

A RIOT occurred at Oil City Saturday night among a number of intoxicated employees on the Farmer's Railroad, during which several citizens, in an attempt to quell the disturbance, were seriously injured. Dr. Arter, a prominent citizen, who was called to attend a wounded man, was set upon by the rioters, and seriously if not fatally injured. Seven of the ringleaders were arrested, and it was with difficulty the excited crowd was restrained from lynching them.

Good Templars in Fayette County.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.
UNIONTOWN, June 3, 1867.

Our citizens have commenced an important movement for the promotion of the cause of sobriety and good order, by the formation of a strong society of the Independent Order of Good Templars. On Friday evening last Rev. Jas. A. Davidson delivered an address on the subject of Temperance in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, Rev. Ralston presiding as Chairman. The result was the reception of fifty names of ladies and gentlemen to organize a Lodge. On Saturday evening, in the same house, the members met and the organization was perfected and the following officers elected:

Rev. A. D. Hall, W. C. T.; Mrs. S. F. White, W. V. T.; Jas. Craft, W. S.; Mrs. Mary G. Coburn, W. T.; Miss Collier, W. I. G.; Mr. Case, W. O. G.; Mrs. Livingston, W. A. S.; Rev. C. W. Smith, W. Chaplain; S. R. Brown, W. M.; Annie King, W. D. M.; A. C. Knox, W. F. S.; Mrs. D. French, R. H. S.; Miss J. Cooper, L. H. S.; A. C. Nutt, P. W. C. T.

The officers and members of the Lodge are first class citizens, and in their hands the society cannot fail of accomplishing much good. Although our town will compare favorably with any of the busy towns of the State in many respects, it is manifest to all that the drinking customs and usages are far too prevalent, and our young men are in consequence in danger of destruction. If young men, or any men are saved by means of this movement from the snares of the prevalent vice of our day, the citizens of influence and popularity must stand up for and aid this excellent society. We are confident it will be approved and sustained.

On Sunday evening there was a union of all the congregations of the town, in the Old School Presbyterian church, Rev. W. Ralston's, when a large concourse assembled to hear Mr. Davidson preach a Temperance sermon. The resident pastors and church members were in attendance, and Rev. W. Smith, of the M. E. church, made a few remarks at the close of the sermon, showing our citizens, by the recital of certain saloon influences that very day, the necessity that exists for earnest, determined effort in the cause of Temperance. Several of the mere boys and youth of the town were made helplessly drunk yesterday, Sabbath, in saloons here. It is high time these "diabolical dens," as the lecturer calls them, were utterly abolished here and everywhere. Faithful work will do it, and it shall be done.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

The National Glassblower's Union, in session in New York, have adjourned until the 1st of June, 1868. J. H. Doyle, of Pittsburgh, was elected Vice President.

The Nebraska Legislature on Saturday appointed a committee to act with a committee of citizens of Omaha, to give the railroad excursionists a grand reception on their return.

It is said Governor Perry, of Georgia, has written another letter, in which he says confiscation is preferable to negro rule. General Pope has been petitioned by five hundred negroes to remove the Mayor and City Councils of Savannah, on the ground that colored men cannot obtain justice from them.

The President has appointed the following Board of Visitors to the United States Military Academy, at West Point, for the year 1867: George W. Burleigh, New Hampshire; Hon. N. A. Thompson, Massachusetts; Rev. D. F. Vinton, New York; Rev. H. Slicer, Maryland; Professor W. C. Kerr, North Carolina; Hon. James B. Campbell, Hon. Joshua Hill, Georgia; Prof. John Kendrick, Ohio; Hon. Hezekiah G. Wells, Michigan; Geo. G. F. Magoun, Iowa; Gen. Henry H. Sibly, Minnesota; Richard Cheney, California; Gen. T. M. Harris, West Virginia; Hon. J. W. McCoker, Nevada; Hon. E. H. Augamor, Louisiana. The Board convenes to-morrow at West Point.

Vermin in Sugar.

S. F. Smith, M. D., writes to the Cincinnati Gazette to say that a great number of living animals are to be found in a spoonful of some kinds of Sugar—especially Porto Rico. He says the best way to see them is to put a teaspoonful of sugar into a saucer of cold coffee, then set the saucer on a table near the window, on the side of the house from the sun, then put the face near the saucer and look across it toward the window, and you will see them moving all over the top of the coffee.

Absorbing the Nickel.

The Secretary of the Treasury has authorized the Director of the Mint to reduce the quantity of cents in circulation, and to obtain a partial supply of nickel in a convenient form to purchase the nickel cents, paying the nominal value in three and five-cent pieces, which will be commenced on the 10th of June, under the following rules: First, persons sending or buying the nickel cents will receive a certificate of the weight thereof and the amount payable in three or five-cent pieces, or both, as they may desire, and with their indorsement thereon such certificates will be paid as soon as the coins are ready. Second, they must be careful not to send any but the kind mentioned, which are readily known by the color and size and by the dates 1857 to 1864. Third, the prices will be taken, not by count, but by avoirdupois and grocers' weight. No lot will be received under ten pounds, and no spoiled, illegible, or doubtful pieces will be taken. Fourth, the reasonable expenses of the transportation of three cent pieces in sums of thirty dollars, and the five cent coins in sums of fifty dollars or upwards, to any point accessible by railroad or steamboat, will be paid by the Mint. Fifth, this arrangement will be revoked as soon as it is found that the issue of the three and five cent pieces is likely to become too large, or that the abatement of cents is sufficient. The sole object of this operation is to confer a public benefit, as none of the cents herein mentioned have any special value.

YOUNGSTOWN.—A letter to the Cleveland Leader says: Our mills are now working on full time, and matters between employers and employees appear to be progressing harmoniously. The miners are also at work in the various banks in the vicinity and up the Hubbard branch, and the threatened strike seems to be postponed indefinitely. A great quantity of coal is now being mined judging from the amount which passes through town daily. On Wednesday we noticed three long trains, in quick succession, coming on the branch. There were seventy-five cars altogether, each containing about ten tons of coal, or seven hundred and fifty tons in the three trains, and this was only a part of the coal arriving during the day.

THE Democratic papers of California rejoiced so long and loud on the Connecticut elections that the San Francisco Bee is reminded that "Once upon a time, in a far-off country, a lone man on horseback was seen riding industriously all day, back and forth, upon a little piece of road not more than forty rods in length. A neighboring farmer, impelled thereto through curiosity, approached him toward evening, and inquired why he had all day ridden back and forth on that little stretch of road, and received for answer that 'for many days before he had been steadily in the saddle, and that the roads were so bad now, when he had got on a good piece he was going to keep on it, and make the most of it.'"

IMPEACHMENT.

Action of Judiciary Committee.

Evidence Insufficient to Warrant Impeachment.

The President Unworthy the Confidence of the People.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 3, 1867.

The House Judiciary Committee to-day closed the impeachment investigation, which they commenced under an order of the House, and in pursuance of charges made by Representative Ashley, of Ohio, in January last. After taking nearly two thousand pages of printed evidence during a session covering five months, the Committee proceeded to vote on the report it should make to the House. The result was as follows:

On the question, "Does the evidence warrant the Committee in reporting articles of impeachment?" the affirmative votes were, Messrs. Boutwell, Thomas, Lawrence and Williams. The negatives were, Messrs. Wilson, Chairman, Woodbridge, Churchill, Eldridge and Marshall. So the Committee decided not to report in favor of impeachment.

A resolution of censure was then presented, to the effect that the evidence produced before the Committee of the official and other acts of President Andrew Johnson demonstrated that he was unworthy of the confidence and respect of the American people. This was agreed to by ayes 7, nays 2, as follows: Ayes—Messrs. Wilson, Chairman; Churchill, Boutwell, Thomas, Woodbridge, Williams and Lawrence—all Republicans. Nays—Messrs. Eldridge and Marshall, both Democrats.

The committee agreed to make the above facts public and then adjourned to the 25th of June, when they will proceed to consider the question of a republican government in Maryland, which was referred to them for investigation and report by the House.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The House committee on Judiciary adjourned to-day to the 26th. The meeting on the 26th is to enable the committee to meet the improbable contingency of a July session of Congress with a report of its proceedings. The final vote on impeaching the President stood four in favor and five against. Boutwell, Williams, Thomas and Lawrence voting aye; Wilson, Woodbridge, Eldridge, Marshall and Churchill nay. On the question of a resolution of censure declaring that the President has been guilty of acts which merit the condemnation of the people, it was passed by a vote of seven to two, Eldridge and Marshall voting nay. During the primary consideration of the vote of censure, Boutwell and Thomas voted in opposition, but finally changed their votes. In the discussion of this question, Eldridge took ground that the committee was transcending its duties in considering or passing such a resolution.

Beaver County Republican Nominations.

Delegates to State Convention Instructed for Judge Williams.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.
BEAVER, PA., June 3, 1867.

The Republican County Convention was presided over to-day by General W. W. Irwin, and nominated the following ticket: Thos. Nicholson, for Assembly, on the twenty-fourth ballot; John Coughey, for Prothonotary; Capt. E. Barnes, for Treasurer; Wm. Ewing, for Commissioner, and Hon. M. Lawrence, for Associate Judge.

The Convention passed a strong resolution in favor of Gen. Irwin, for State Treasurer, and also in favor of a free Railroad law.

Hon. M. S. Quay, and Colonel J. Weyand were elected delegates to the State Convention, and instructed to vote first for Judge Williams, and after him for Judge Pearson. R. J. S.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

A General Attack Along the Platte Contemplated---Five Captive White Women with the Cheyennes.

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—Late Denver papers report ten to eighteen inches of snow, and heavy rains fell there between the 15th and 20th ult. The snow is so deep in the mountains that the coaches could not go through to Central City.

A boy named George Miller, seventeen years old who was captured by the Blackfeet Indians in 1865, and stolen by the Cheyennes the following year, has escaped and reached Denver. He reports five white women held captives. One of them was the wife of a Doctor at Council Bluff.

The Indians keep themselves thoroughly posted in regard to the military movements. They have many Spencer rifles procured from traders. The Indians contemplate a general and simultaneous attack along the Platte early in June.

The Indian Commission, Judge Kenney and party, were attacked at Bridge Ferry on the 15th. Captain Willis, with troops, pursued them and recovered all the stock. One Indian was killed.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The Herald's Fort Laramie special says: The Southern Cheyennes crossed the South Platte yesterday, going north. They attacked Cole Crook Station, thirty-six miles west of Sedgwick, this morning, one hundred strong, and drove off four mules. One Indian was killed. Gen. Augur, with reinforcements, is on his way to this post.

Meeting of the National Typographical Union.

MEMPHIS, June 3.—The National Typographical Union met to-day at Odd Fellows' Hall. About seventy-five delegates are present. The following officers were elected: John H. Oberly, of Cairo, was re-elected President; D. C. Morris, of Memphis, First, and W. J. Hammond, of New Orleans, Second Vice President; Alexander Troupe, of New York, Secretary and Treasurer; M. D. Mayberry, of Philadelphia, Corresponding Secretary.

Probable Resignation of Bismarck.

Reception of the Czar.

NEW YORK, June 3.—The Herald's Paris special says: The Czar Alexander comes from Berlin direct, where he was entertained by King William of Prussia, and accorded interviews to Count Bismarck. He had visited Copenhagen, previously. It is said that the Russian royal party will extend its visit to London. The Emperor of Russia will be attended during his stay in Paris by Prince Gortschakoff, his Minister of Foreign Affairs. The Czar's eldest sister, the Grand Duchess Maria, of Russia, has been in Paris since the 19th of May, accompanied by her son, the present Duke of Leuchtenburg. King William, of Prussia, and Count Bismarck, are looked for immediately. King Victor Emanuel, of Italy, and the Viceroy of Egypt, will, it is said, reach Paris within three days from the present date.

The French Derby.

The Grand Prix de Paris, of one hundred thousand francs, with the Emperor's cup, the two most eagerly sought for results of the French turf contests, were run for to-day in the Bois de Bologne, and won by the horse Fervalques. There were at least 100,000 persons, hailing from every nation on the earth, present on the occasion. Fervalques and Patricieus, the winners of the French Derby, made a dead heat at one time, but the next heat, which decided the race, was won by Fervalques easily. The Emperor Napoleon, the Czar Alexander of Russia, the Grand Duchess Maria of Russia, the King and Queen of the Belgians, the Princess Murat and other royal personages were on the Emperor's stands. Napoleon and the Czar walked through the crowd to see the horses.

MAXIMILIAN.

Letter from Senor Romero, Mexican Minister.

NEW YORK, June 3.—A letter from Minister Romero to a friend here, argues that "if Maximilian is pardoned and allowed to go home, nobody in Europe will give us credit for magnanimity, as weak nations are not supposed to be magnanimous, but on the contrary it will be said we did so through fear of public opinion in Europe, and because we would not dare to treat harshly an European Prince and our sovereign. I do not mean by this to say that Emperor Maximilian must necessarily be shot. What I mean is, his power to do further mischief in Mexico must be utterly destroyed before he is allowed to depart. The United States is a great country, and a perfectly well organized power, and can afford to do what would not be prudent for a country like Mexico. I have full faith in President Juarez's ability to treat Maximilian in the way most beneficial to the interests of Mexico. We have sacred duties to fulfill towards our own country, and their discharge must be the first consideration we should have in view on attempting to resolve any question."

FROM ATLANTA.

Important Order from Gen. Pope.

ATLANTA, June 3.—The following is the substance of an important General Order just issued by Gen. Pope:

First, The interference of the post commander at Mobile with a newspaper published there, is entirely disapproved, and his action reversed.

Second, He declares it is the duty of the military authorities to secure the utmost freedom of speech and of the press consistent with the law.

Third, He orders that no officer or soldier in his command is to interfere with newspapers or speakers on any pretext. If a disturbance is feared, precautions will be taken as prescribed in general order No. 25.

Fourth, Treasonable utterances are not the legitimate exercise of freedom of discussion, but even in such cases no action is to be taken but by direct orders from these headquarters.

From Augusta, Me.

AUGUSTA, June 3.—A few returns received from the State indicate a vote not exceeding 25,000. The amendment is undoubtedly carried by two to one.

THEY are going to have an interesting season in Turkey, the occasion for it being somewhat peculiar. The sons of the present Sultan have never been circumcised, although the eldest is some ten years old. It was to have been done last year, but Fuad Pasha refused to furnish the money for the accompanying fetes. He lost his place as Grand Vizier for his refusal, but the Sultan did not get the money. The affair is to come off next month. Fuad Pasha will give the money now rather than lose his place; 12,000 Mussulman children will be circumcised at the same time, and all will receive presents. There will be feasts, illuminations, and a grand holiday for two or three days for all the officers of the Government. The estimated cost of this ceremony is £40,000. The Ministers have reasoned with the Sultan in vain. It is doubtful whether the July interest on the debt can be paid; but the Sultan says the honor of his name depends upon his having this money. He would disgrace his throne if he disappointed the 12,000 Moslem families, who have been waiting for this opportunity to circumcise their children. So he is to have it.

THE Maryland Democratic Convention to revise the constitution, by a vote of seventy-eight to twenty-four, have struck from the bill of rights the clause declaring that slavery "shall not be permitted in this State," and substituted in its stead one declaring that slavery "shall not be re-established in this State, but having been abolished under the policy and authority of the United States, compensation in consideration thereof is due from the United States.

The Duty of the Public.

Judge Mellon's Charge to the Grand Jury

The June term of the Court of Quarter Sessions commenced yesterday morning. After the Grand Jury had been empanelled, Hon. Thomas Mellon delivered to them the following charge:

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:

We have met to consider and dispose of the business of the Criminal Courts for the present term. So far as I am informed, there is no unusual case or peculiar matter requiring special instruction from the Court. Nothing but the ordinary routine of criminal business—the forms and details of which will be attended to by the Deputy District Attorney, who will have the different bills prepared and produce the Commonwealth's witnesses in each particular case—will come before you.

Whilst your labor in the aggregate may be onerous, your duty in each case is simple enough. It is but to ascertain whether the Commonwealth's testimony presents such a degree of probability of the truth of the charge as justifies, in your opinion, the putting of the accused on trial and an investigation of the question of his guilt or innocence. Further than this it would be but a waste of time for you to proceed in the inquiry. This, however, by no means implies that the Grand Jury may be careless or indifferent as to their findings, or that true bills may be returned on the slightest shade of evidence. If the Commonwealth's testimony is of too unreliable a character to induce a man of common prudence to seriously believe and act upon it, the complaint should be dismissed. You will soon perceive that spite, and ill feeling, and interested motives have a great deal to do with the prosecution in many cases, and give their coloring to the testimony; hatching up frivolous and unfounded charges. These should be promptly ignored. Besides the great expense and waste of public time in trying cases of this kind in Court, when once they escape the vigilance of the Grand Jury, it is a matter of no small consequence to the accused to be subjected to the suspicion of guilt attaching to the finding of a true bill, and the expense and exposure of a public trial. No matter how innocent, how just the acquittal, it is nevertheless a great hardship, and therefore the duty of the Grand Jury in this respect, though simple, is a nice and delicate one.

You will also discover before you proceed far with the business before you that there is one source of criminality more prolific than all others, the use of intoxicating drink. As the best mode of exterminating evil is to strike at its root, it is not to be wondered at. that this subject has greatly exercised the attention of the public as well as of the law making and the law administering powers. And as recently very important laws, not yet generally published, have been passed on this subject, it may not be unprofitable here to advert to them.

Four different acts have been passed at the last session of our Legislature, regulative of the liquor traffic, all of which are, in some of their provisions, applicable to, and in force in this county.

1. The special act for this county, entitled "An act regulating the granting of licenses to eating houses and taverns in the county of Allegheny, and enforcing order therein." Approved the 21st of March last.

2. A supplement to the general (or old) law of 1856, entitled "an act regulating the granting of licenses to hotels and eating houses." This act was approved the next day after the Allegheny county act first above mentioned, viz: the 22d March last.

3. A general act to "enable police officers to enforce order in licensed houses, and to exterminate the unlicensed traffic." Approved the 17th April last.

4. A supplement to the law relating to Sunday liquor selling, approved the 29th April last.

The old law, as formerly held and administered, is the foundation on which the foregoing enactments are constructed, and the old law is still in force as to the mode of procedure, and otherwise, except so far as altered or modified by the foregoing enactments. And as regards the last mentioned of those enactments, that concerning Sunday liquor selling, as relates to this county, it leaves the offense and its punishment precisely as it was before under the old law; or, rather, leaves the old law in force in regard to it, and therefore it need not be further considered.

As to the special Allegheny County act, its more important provisions are the following, viz: It changes the licensing power from this Court to the Board of County Commissioners. We can speak from experience in saying that its removal from the Court was a proper and desirable measure. The business was inappropriate to the Court. The time and opportunity afforded to it from other duties, more serious and urgent, were insufficient to its proper discharge. The mode of procedure by petition and witnesses, and of hearing by witnesses, and petitions or remonstrances for and against, and the principles on which the granting or rejection depends, remain the same as under the old law. The tribunal alone is changed, and a tribunal having more time to devote to it, and better acquainted with applicants and their localities than the judges of the Court are likely to be, has the better opportunity of rendering satisfaction to the public as well as to the applicant.

This act also restricts the applicants for a license to such as have not within a year preceding been under sentence for felony, and have not within a year preceding the application been in prison for a violation of the provisions of the act itself. In either case the applicant must have performed quarantine for a year before he applies. No amount of reform under prison discipline, nor even the Governor's pardon can obviate the necessity of this. It also provides that in addition to the amount paid the State, according to the classification to which the applicant belongs, he must pay an equal amount to the County Treasurer for the erection and maintenance of the Work House. This is also a salutary provision. If the traffic is injurious to society, and yet must be tolerated, this serves to compensate in some degree for the injury done. It is found to afford a fruitful source of revenue. It is in force only since the 21st of March, and applicants have already paid into the County Treasury to the amount of $14,863. It is also provided that this Court may revoke and annul any license granted by the Board, if the licensed premises are suffered to become the resort of disorderly persons to the annoyance of the neighborhood; and the License Board itself may revoke any license for like cause; and may act upon its own motion in such case, and is bound to act in case of a magistrate's report to them of the existence of such cause.

As the remaining provisions of this act are the same in substance as in the act to enable the police to preserve order in licensed houses and extirpate the unlicensed traffic, and the latter act is general, and passed subsequently to our special act, and consequently in force in this county, I need not advert further to anything contained in our special act.

The next act in point of time to our special act is a general supplement to the old law—number 2 in the foregoing enumeration. It supplies two very important provisions as regards this county. The one fixes the minimum for the license of any restaurant or eating house in any corporated city at fifty dollars, and elsewhere at twenty dollars. The other fixes the penalty for selling without license. For the first offense a fine not less than fifty nor over two hundred dollars, and for the second offense a fine not less than one hundred dollars, and as much more as the Court in its discretion shall choose to inflict; and the Court may also in its discretion imprison the offender in the county jail not less than thirty nor over ninety days in cases of second offense.

Act No. 3, above mentioned, to preserve order in licensed houses, and extripate unlicensed traffic—now alone remains to be considered. It requires licensed persons, at all times, to prevent disorderly conduct in their houses, as far as lies in their power; and to enable them to do so, they are required, immediately upon the occurrence of any disturbance, to call in the police or any constable, or sheriff, who are bound to obey such call and remove such disorderly person or persons, and shut up the house if need be, till the disturbance is over. Sec. 2 provides against selling or permitting to be sold or given away, any intoxicating drink of any kind, to any minor or apprentice. The question whether or not the party is known at the time to be a minor or apprentice is immaterial. Ignorance on this point will not excuse. Sec. 3 forbids the sale or giving away of any such drink to an habitual drunkard, or to any intoxicated person, under the influence of liquor. Under this section, a tavern or restaurant keeper can not safely give liquor to any stranger entering his house, until he is certain that such party is not already intoxicated, or under the influence of liquor. If he does so, and the party happens to be under the influence of liquor, all the penalties of the act are incurred, which are severe; and the knowledge or absence of knowledge of the fact of intoxication would be immaterial. Nor is the degree of intoxication material; the penalty would be incurred, however slight the degree, if it existed at all. The same precaution will be necessary in any case where the party is not intoxicated, but commences drinking. Care must be taken to furnish no more liquor the moment that which is already furnished begins to have an intoxicating effect. Section 4 puts it in the power of every husband and wife, or parent and child, to prevent each other from procuring any intoxicating drink from licensed houses of any kind. To effect this, all the husband has to do to prevent the wife, or the wife the husband, or the parent the child, or the child the parent, is simply to forbid the licensed party to furnish such drink to such relative. No formality is required as to notice. Either verbal or written notice will suffice, and if the notice or prohibition is violated by the licensed party, the consequences to him are serious; and the question whether such relative so forbidden to be supplied is a drunkard or not is wholly immaterial. The law places parties holding these domestic relations mutually within each other's power as regards procuring strong drink, and punishes the party furnishing it contrary to such prohibition. Sec. 5 requires all bars or places of sale to be closed at midnight, and not open again till sunrise, nor open on Sunday at all. Sec. 6 provides that conviction for a disregard of any of these provisions shall, ipso facto, work the forfeiture of license. Sec. 7, as already stated, makes it the duty of all policemen, and constables and sheriff to see to the enforcement of this law, and to act on their own observation, or the suggestion of others in arresting its violators, who are to be taken before a magistrate. Sec. 8 makes it the duty of policemen, constables or sheriff to arrest every person found intoxicated either on the streets or in places where drink is kept or sold, and to take them before a magistrate, whose duty it is to interrogate the party arrested, if not too drunk, as to where, and from whom, and under what circumstances he procured his drink. If the party is too drunk to answer this he is to be locked up or committed till sober, and then interrogated in order to ascertain whether the party furnishing the liquor was licensed, or if licensed whether it was furnished when the party was already intoxicated or under the influence of liquor, or the liquor had been forbidden by the relatives. In any of which cases the party so furnishing the liquor would be subjected to the proper punishment. The party intoxicated and so arrested is bound to furnish this information under oath, and if he should refuse so to do when sober, it would of course be the duty of the magistrate to commit him for contempt until he complied. Besides the penalties already mentioned Section 10 makes any violation of the act a misdemeanor punishable by fine and imprisonment. A neglect by policemen or magistrates would also be indictable as a misdemeanor.

But these penalties to be imposed by the Criminal Courts are perhaps not the most serious consequences that may result to some from a violation of the law. Section 9 renders the party offending liable to be sued in any civil court for all damages which may be sustained by any one in consequence of sale to parties to whom sale is prohibited; that is to say, sales to minors, apprentices, habitual drunkards, parties intoxicated and under influence of liquor at the time, and parties whose relatives or relative, as above named, have forbidden the sale. To a responsible restaurant or tavern keeper this civil liability might prove disastrous, and even to one who is not responsible it might prove exceedingly troublesome. He could not get rid of a judgment for such damages, except by imprisonment, and discharge under the insolvent laws, and then his bail for license must suffer to the extent of their bond. Take, for example, the case of drink furnished to a husband whose wife had forbidden it, and the husband loses his health in consequence, and becomes incapable of labor or the support of his family; or becomes intoxicated, and in consequence meets with an accident, causing physician's bills and loss of employment; or in his intoxication commits some depredation upon the person or property of others, causing his arrest, imprisonment, and loss of time, etc. It is easy to see the measure of damages a jury would mete out against the party furnishing the drink in such case. The wife and children, and perhaps the husband himself, or party to whom he did violence, would each be entitled to their appropriate damages.

After a careful consideration of the law as now in force in this county, I have come to the conclusion that they are not so inefficient, or defective as some would represent them to be. And what is likely to be most wanted is their certain and prompt administration and enforcement. This, as in the case of all other laws, will depend on the condition of public sentiment, and the disposition of everybody to do his duty, in bringing offenders to punishment. The law, as it now exists, is perhaps as stringent as it can safely be made short of total prohibition, and to that standard the public mind and conscience has perhaps not yet been elevated.

Instead of complaining of the law as it is, and indulging in vain conjectures of what it ought to be, it would be much more profitable for us all to devote the same amount of energy and attention in a practical way to the enforcement of the law as we find it.

Courts or juries can do nothing except as to what is brought before them in the prescribed way; but I may suggest to those whom it may concern, that we are determined to perform our duty, however unpleasant, in enforcing these laws, and inflicting such penalty as the law making power has indicated, and this not only in regard to that branch of the laws we have been discussing, but in regard to every other, and especially in regard to cases of violence, to person or property, which of late have become so common.

Offenders convicted after a fair and impartial trial, must not expect, without showing circumstances of great extenuation, to escape the full penalty the nature of the offense demands. The Legislature in most cases has left to the Court a wide range of discretion, which must be exercised in a manner calculated to protect the community, and render it of fearful consequence to insult the majesty of the people, by violating the laws they have prescribed for their protection.

THE UNITED STATES AND MEXICO.

The Fall of the Empire in Mexico---The United States Urged to Interfere and Maintain Order.

(From the London Times, May 21.)

By the fall of the Empire one chance of civilization has been lost to Mexico. The actual state of that wretched country is worse, if that be possible, than it was before the arrival of the allies. The anarchy is apparently more desperate, and the character of the strife is more sanguinary and horrible. Nor is there any prospect of pacification, for Juarez, though he could destroy a Government, can neither construct nor maintain one, and it appears to be believed that the United States, after forbidding and disconcerting the intervention of others must attempt an intervention of their own. The Mexicans are incapable of self-government. If life and property are to be secure in the country, and if it is to be included in the community of civilized States, the strong arm of some foreign power must be employed to do what Maximilian was compelled to leave undone. There may be a change in the instruments, but the work will be still the same. It will not be easy, and we can well imagine that the Americans may be reluctant to undertake it, but they have brought it upon their own hands.

There would be little profit now in reviewing the errors of that policy in which the ill-starred Empire took its rise. Public opinion had been miscalculated even in France itself, where the expedition was unpopular from first to last; but except for the termination of the civil war and the victory of the Federals in the United States, the new Monarchy would undoubtedly have been consolidated, and the regeneration of Mexico gradually accomplished. The opposition offered in the country itself amounted to no more than the struggle of a despairing faction, and was soon overcome. It is not long since Juarez was a fugitive on the borders of Texas, preparing for flight into American territory; but with the defeat of the Confederates and the reascendency of the Union and its principles, the whole prospect was changed. Maximilian's enemies were encouraged, and his patrons forbidden to interfere. The American Government said the French must quit Mexico, and that was enough to throw Mexico into anarchy once more. Maximilian accepted the new part of a Mexican chief, and encountered the consequences. His resolution did credit to his bravery and his intentions, if not to his wisdom. It will probably be the opinion of everybody that he has deserved a better fate than he has found, and we can but trust that he may yet escape with life from an enterprise which, whatever may have been its disasters can never be set down to his dishonor. As far as his personal administration was concerned it was exercised in the interests of his subjects, and it might by this time have borne fruit of stable Government and tranquilized society, had the experiment not been interrupted. Perhaps the Americans will now resume the attempt. They will experience the same resistance, but they will have greater advantages in overcoming it. Whatever cause or principle or policy they may proclaim, they will find a faction in Mexico ready to oppose their intervention, and to rise in insurrection, like Juarez and his partisans, against the authorities established. This opposition they must suppress, as the French would have done, by force of arms and with little respect to the doctrines of nationality or independence. The work will probably be troublesome, but as there will at any rate be nobody to hinder it, we may presume that it will be accomplished at last.

Judge Underwood on the Davis Fiasco.

An Alexandria paper has an article, understood to have been inspired by Judge Underwood, the last paragraph of which is as follows: "Congress, while the war was in progress, made the crime for which Davis was indicted, a bailable offense. The Judge was ready for the trial, the executive officers of the Court had made due preparation and expected it, and the prisoner was not only ready but anxious for the trial; and that he expected it, I think is proved by the fact that when Mr. Evarts announced the Government as not prepared to prosecute the prisoner at this term of the court, Davis gave a very perceptible start and then sank back in his chair. Then his release on bail was applied for. Prosecuting lawyers, with whom the judge had nothing more to do than with those for the defense, did not object; sureties for the amount demanded by them were tendered. Now, what could the judge do? What good man in his place, with the laws aforesaid staring him in the face, dare refuse bail? In the words of Chief Justice Chase: 'He should not have done otherwise than he did. Let the blame then, rest where it belongs. What citizen in this free country will say that a party charged with crime, which by law is bailable, who is ready for trial, and has been already imprisoned two years, waiting therefor, and the prosecution not being prepared or willing to try him, offers any amount of bail demanded. Who, I repeat, will say bail should be refused, and the prisoner be taken to jail to await the conveniences of his prosecutor?"

SECOND EDITION.

THE CAPITAL.

Reconstruction in Virginia.

Gen. Schofield Wants More Assistance.

Radical Ticket Elected in Washington.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.
WASHINGTON, June 3, 1867.

Reconstruction in Virginia.

Gen. Schofield arrived in town early this morning from Richmond, and has had a consultation with Gen. Grant during most of the day on the question arising under the recent order which the former has just issued regarding the military government in Virginia. It is stated that he asks for more officers to assist him in the enforcement of the Reconstruction act. The work of preparing the registration alone has been very great.

The Municipal Election.

Washington has passed quietly through an important local event to-day, in its first municipal election under the universal suffrage act. The colored people cast about eight thousand votes, and the returns so far show the radical ticket to be elected. The candidates voted for were tax collector and members of City Council.

The Mobile Removals.

Ex-Mayor Withers, of Mobile, is here awaiting the return of Attorney General Stanbery and the President for final action on the question of restoring him to the Mayoralty of that city. If the civil authorities are reinstated there, the order will also provide for revoking the suppression of the Radical paper.

Maximilian.

Neither Gen. Grant's headquarters, nor the State Department, succeeded in obtaining today any confirmatory intelligence of the rumor of Maximilian's execution.

REPLY OF PARAGUAY TO THE OFFER OF MEDIATION.

The reply of the Paraguayan Foreign Minister to United States Minister Washburne's note, informing him of the rejection of mediation of the United States by the allies, has been received. He thanks Mr. Washburn for the strong arguments with which he repelled the preliminary condition that President Lopez should abdicate and leave the country to consider the question of mediation. He details at length the events which led to the war, and concludes, by saying his government will never accept a single one of the articles of the treaty of alliance as the basis for discussion of a treaty of peace. The republic is determined to save itself with its institutions, its government and its mode of being, or to perish gloriously at the foot of the flag that has loudly proclaimed the liberty of its people and sustained with ardent enthusiasm its motto of peace and justice.

ANNUAL EXAMINATION.

Secretary of the Navy, Admiral Farragut, and others, visit the Academy at Annapolis, tomorrow, to witness the closing exercises of the annual examination.

THE EAST INDIA SQUADRON.

Advices from the East India squadron state that the Wachusetts was at Hankow on the 17th of March, and would remain some time for the protection of the American interest against organized bands of banditti along the Yangtzee river, the steam navigation of which is in the hands of Americans. The commander of the Monocacy had visited the Sultan of Borneo, and his vessel since arrived at Hong Kong.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.

In the municipal election to-day, the colored citizens voted for the first time. The returns so far as recived indicate the election of the Republican ticket, including A. G. Hall, Collector, F. A. Boswell, Register, and C. H. Bliss, Surveyor, by a decided majority. The Fourth ward has probably gone conservative.

RALEIGH, N. C.

The Presidential Party Arrived.

MILITARY AND CIVIC RECEPTION.

Speakers' Union Sentiments Repeatedly Cheered.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.
RALEIGH, N. C., June 3, 1867.

Judge Brooks organized the Federal Court here to-day, and empannelled a jury. He has not yet delivered a charge, and will not, as Chief Justice Chase is expected here Wednesday.

The President's trip from Richmond here was wholly void of interesting incident. He arrived at Balfield, Virginia; Weldon, Warrenton, and Henderson, North Carolina, and refused to speak, although the people were gathered at the depots in crowds and urged him to do so. The party arrived at Raleigh at four o'clock, and were escorted to the Yarborough House by the military and civil authorities.

One of the most extensive assemblages ever witnessed in this city was gathered in front of the hotel to listen to Gov. Worth's speech of welcome to Mr. Johnson, and it remained to hear the speeches of Messrs. Seward, Randall and Sickles. The best of order prevailed, and the audience repeatedly cheered the speakers when they expressed Union sentiments. To-morrow at ten o'clock the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the monument to the President's father commences.

By Associated Press.

WELDON, June 3.—The President and party left Richmond this morning, between three and four o'clock. On arriving at Petersburg they were met by the Mayor and General Stoneman, and breakfasted. The Mayor expressed the pleasure of the citizens in having them for guests, and said to the President they would be much gratified if the party, on their return trip, would remain longer in Petersburg than on this occasion, in order that there might be an extension of hospitalities. The President expressed his thanks for the kind reception, and hoped he might in future be able to reciprocate. Weldon was reached at 10 A. M.

RALEIGH, June 3.—The President was met at the depot by the following named officers: State Treasurer Battles, Secretary of State Best, Comptroller Burgen, United States Marshal Goodles, and a Committee of the City Council. Mr. Battle, addressing the President in behalf of the people of North Carolina, gave him welcome to the State.

The President replied: "I have no language adequate to express my feelings and emotions on this occasion. I shall not now recur to the scenes of my early life, for it has not been my intention or desire to make any general remarks on this tour, but simply to acknowledged and express my sincere thanks for the manifestation of respect of my fellow citizens. I acknowledge to you, sir, and those whom you represent, gratitude for the welcome which you have thus given me. I must leave you and others to infer what I ought to have said, if I had ventured upon a full reply to the remarks which you have made. Again, gentlemen, I sincerely, heartily thank you."

Mr. Butler welcomed the Secretary of State and Postmaster General. Mr. Seward replied in a pleasant speech, in the course of which he said he could bear testimony that the President's only objects are the restoration of peace, harmony and prosperity throughout the Union. I believe his conduct of public affairs has been in all respects not only patriotic but wise and benevolent. I thank you for this cordial welcome in the name of the authorities of North Carolina. All the world know we of the national administration held all the Federal States closely within their Constitutional spheres. On the other hand it becomes us to show, as I trust we shall while we remain here, respect for all the proper rights of North Carolina, with loyalty and submission to the constituted authorities of the ancient and honored Commonwealth.

Postmaster General Randall also spoke, remarking that the President has an earnest hope that prosperity may in all its fullness follow peace which now prevails througout the land, and that we may in all respects be a united people, speaking with one voice, and that voice for the glory and perpetuity of the nation. I know this is the feeling which animates the President ad well as the great mass of the American people, their hope and prayer being that we may have one body, and that a sound one, one faith, and that a stern one for the glory of the republic.

The ceremonies having closed, the party resumed their journey. At the stoppping places on the way to Raleigh, many persons, white and black, approached the car to shake hands with the President and converse with him. Among the incidents an old negro woman, rushing through the crowd at Warren depot, seizing the President's hand, exclaimed "Bless de Lord, I'se been praying night and day for dis day to come round dat I might see de President." A genuine black man came up and introduced himself as Cæsar Johnson, saying "Dat's a good name." The President pleasantly replied, "Yes, I think so. It will not disgrace you if you do not disgrace it."

The party arrived at a quarter past four. A large crowd was in waiting. The President was cheered on landing. Gens. Sickles, Burns and Miles were at the depot. Repeated cheers were given in honor of the President. Mayor Haywood addressed the President, tendering a cordial welcome to the hospitalities of the city.

The President responded by remarking it would be affective in him were he to say he was indifferent or insensible to this manifestation. He could not prove false to his nature or manhood. Such a welcome as this from those who have known him first and longest, on his return to his native city, was highly appreciated. He had nothing further to say than to tender to the Mayor and those whom he represented his thanks for this cordial welcome. A procession was formed, the President being accompanied by a military escort. He was cheered as he passed through the principal streets, and on reaching the Yarborough Hotel he proceeded to the portico and was there introduced to the crowd by Governor North.

The President, in reply, tendered his thanks, and said: "Here in the city of Raleigh is where my infant eyes first saw the light of heaven. Here are the scenes of my childhood. Here is everything to bind man to his fellow, and to associate him with surrounding objects. Here is where the tendrils of my heart have taken a firm hold upon everything to which it is attracted. In making my entrance into this city to-day, my mind involuntarily wandered back to the time when I left its streets a penniless and inexperienced boy, to make my way in the world. [Applause.] When looking back forty years ago, and returning here to-day, I beg to inquire, where are those I left behind? In the language of poetry itself, "the friends of my childhood, where are they?" Echo answers, where? Some have emigrated and gone to other lands; some have complied with the inexorable and irresistible call, and have passed to that undiscovered country from whose bourne no traveler returns. I again ask, the friends of my childhood, where are the Haywoods, Hunters and Lanes? Where are the Pearces, the Roysters, the Smiths and the Joneses? Where is the long list of men who lived at that day, and who commanded respect for constancy of principle? [Applause.]

"Under these circumstances could I feel indifferent? I would be false to my nature if I forgot you, and not to indulge in self-adulation, I can say I feel proud of the demonstration in my honor by citizens of my native land.

> "Breathes there a man with soul so dead,
> Who never to himself hath said,
> This is my own, my native land?"

[Applause.] "This is not the time or occasion to discuss the public mind, but as allusion has been made to my first going out from among you, I may say ever since I formed an opinion as to the fundamental principles of the Government, I have adhered to them and to the Constitution, the Union and the flag of my country. [Aplause.] When I went out from among you, and from the time I became connected with politics, I laid down as a rule a conscientious performance of duty, and adopted the Constitution as my guide, and by these, whether in prosperity or adversity, I have always been guided and controlled; and come weal or woe, in high place or low places, with my hand laid on the altar of my country, I will leave these great principles for those who are to follow me. [Applause.]

"One of my leading tenets has been the prosperity of the great mass of the people, holding that all persons, without regard to condition or color, should be esteemed according to intrinsic worth or merit, leaving each to rise on his own merit, courage and energy. Let this be the standard, so that to every one may be assigned his true position. I trust, instead of discussing party issues, creating party factions between North, South, East or West, that all will exert themselves for the restoration of the Union of these States, so the flag may float over a prosperous country. [Applause.] Let us, my friends, repair the breaches made by the war, and restore the Union. This being accomplished, we may then make such issues as prosperity and safety may demand. Let us efface from our minds the memory of the past. Let us pour oil on the troubled waters and restore peace to the States. This has been my constant object.

"But let this pass. I simply come to this place in compliance with your invitation to partake in a ceremony to confer an honor upon the memory of one who was a few years ago in your midst. This has not emanated, as I understand, from any particular quarter or family. One word to you, young men. There is much said as to educational advantages, et cetera, but if any of you wish to succeed, or, in common phrase, make yourselves men, you will have to do so through your own exertions. I know some of you are familiar with the hardships and fiery trials through which I have passed during the time that has elapsed since I left you. It is not for me to say whether I have succeeded or not. Let that be as it may, my race is nearly run. I am no aspirant for anything. The way is open for all. All places of emolument and distiction are before you. There are here a few of those in whose hands the administration of the government is placed. We are passing away. The next wave will bring you, young men and women, in our places, and our work will fall into other hands. Therefore, greater should be your efforts to prepare yourself for the responsibilities that must in time devolve upon you.

"In conclusion, permit me to tender you my thanks for this cordial welcome, tendered through your distinguished representative, the Governor of the State. Though she sent me out penniless and friendless, and did not afford me those advantages which you now enjoy, and though on returning I cannot do so in the language of my alma mater, I can say with pride and satisfaction she is my mother, and whatever may have been her delinquencies, I love her still. Ladies and gentlemen, let me again express my heartfelt thanks for this warm welcome on returning to this, my native city."

The President as he retired was repeatedly applauded. Secretary Seward was loudly called for. In the course of his remarks he said: I have one word to say about the political situation. When the idle and mischievous expression, "Let the wayward sisters depart in peace," was uttered, I noticed well that when the tempter went abroad, he placed his mouth at the ear of North Carolina, and she went out with the rest; but most loth and last of all. I have not forgotten that after the storm of violence and passion began to subside, and the rainbow was distinguished by the faintest tints in the political skies, and when we sent out the dove and olive branch, inviting the wanderers to come home again, North Carolina fluttered and hastened to return to the ark. [Applause and laughter.] You never had any consent to depart; you never have had refusal to stay; you have always my heart to come and stay in what way you can. Come white, come black, come mixed, come altogether, only come, and all shall be well again. [Applause.] As he withdrew, Postmaster General Randall was called for and made a few remarks.

General Sickles also spoke. He alluded to the cordial welcome extended to the President and his associates, and to the fact that no trace of disorder occurred. It was his pleasing duty to testify to the President that what he had seen to-day in the capital prevails everywhere over the broad surface of your State. General Sickles was applauded.

The assemblage, which was large, after hearing the President, retired from the vicinity. The President, in company with Secretary Seward, walked through the streets, pointing out various interesting localities, and occasionally stopping to shake hands with an old friend. A large number of strangers are in the city from all parts of the State. After the dedication of the monument there will be a State dinner.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

An Omaha special to the Tribune says Gov. Hunt, of Colorado, has asked authority to organize mounted volunteers for a campaign against the Indians. Three thousand friendly Utes, he says, will join the expedition with permission of the Government. Generals Custar and A. J. Smith are at Fort Hayes with 1,300 cavalry. Three hundred men with their horses have deserted within two weeks. Every station on Smoky Hill is well guarded. A fight occurred between the Sioux and Pawnees, in which the former were victorious. One Sioux was killed and five captured. Gen. Sherman was at Omaha Saturday, and left to-day with the Congressional party for the end of the Pacific Road, where he will join Gen. Augur in the field.

CITY MATTERS.

BASE BALL.—There will be a match game of base ball between the "Lafayette" and "Lively" base ball clubs of Lawrenceville, at two o'clock Saturday afternoon.

SOLDIERS' LEAGUE.—A meeting of the Allegheny County Soldiers' League will be held this evening, at their rooms, No. 73 Federal street, Allegheny.

IN BEHALF OF FREEDMEN.—Mrs. L. M. E. Ricks, of Washington, D. C., will speak in behalf of the Freedmen in the new Christian Chapel, corner Beaver street and Montgomery avenue, Allegheny, this evening at quarter to eight o'clock. All persons are respectfully invited to attend.

YOUNG MEN'S MERCANTILE LIBRARY.—The Library and Reading room, after a thorough renovation, and being refurnished with new carpets, papering, &c., will be re-opened to-morrow. The officers cordially invite the public to visit the rooms, and become acquainted with the advantages the institution offers.

ELECTION IN SEVENTH WARD, ALLEGHENY.—In accordance with the proclamation issued by Mayor Morrison, an election will be held in that portion of McClure and Reserve townships, recently annexed to Allegheny city, and designated as the Seventh ward, to-day, between the hours of ten A. M. and seven P. M., to elect three members of Select Council and four members of Common Council.

PROFESSIONAL CHANGE.—Owing to increased engagements, our valued friend Dr. Thomas H. Elliott, of Allegheny, has found it necessary to associate with him Wm. B. Hezlep, M. D., as will appear by referring to our advertising columns. Dr. Hezlep is by no means unknown to the community, and his association with so distinguished a practitioner as Dr. Elliott furnishes an item of no little consequence to the public.

Drs. Elliott & Hezlep will be found at the former's old office, 158 Robinson street, Allegheny.

PAY YOUR TAXES.—Those wishing to avail themselves of the five per cent. discount on State and County taxes, should call immediately upon the Treasurer, Mr. Aiken. The books have not been opened over a month, and comparitively few, it seems, are aware of the fact. As the time when the discount is stopped, draws near, the Treasurer's office will be besieged, and many will find they have delayed too long. All who desire to avoid a rush should pay their taxes now.

Paris Exposition----Prize Medals.

The first grand gold prize medal at the World's Fair, at Paris, has been awarded to an American House, as will be seen by the annexed correspondence of the New York Weekly Review, under date of May 7th:

About the official decision in regard to the American pianos there is nothing known yet, but, without doubt, the firm of Steinway & Sons have been awarded the first gold medal. Their pianos have created a sensation, not only among the artists and manufacturers, but also among the most prominent amateurs.

It will be highly gratifying to our readers to learn the final result of awards made by the Supreme Jury on pianofortes at the International Exhibition, in Paris. We are pleased to state that the decision, according to private cable news of the 16th inst., is extremely flattering, and must be in the highest degree gratifying to the American musical public. Of the three International gold medals voted by the Jury, two have been awarded to America, classified according to merit. The first of the gold medals goes to our leading New York manufacturers, Messrs. Steinway & Sons; the second to Boston, and the third to Broadwood, of London, England. A number of second prizes (silver medials) go to various makers on the Continent and in England, and thus we have every reason to be proud of the decided victory achieved by our American exhibitors.—Ed. W. R.

It may not be amiss here to expose the attempt made by interested parties to delude the public relative to the above award of the Committee on Pianos, granting the first gold medal to Steinway & Sons, the second to a Boston house, and the third to Broadwood, of London. The news of this decision which was communicated by cable to various parties, though not yet publicly announced, is utterly reliable and trustworthy, and all attempts to deceive the public on this subject should be severely reprobated.

I X L
FIRE WORKS.

I would be pleased to call the attention of my patrons and the public generally to my stock of Fire Works, manufactured expressly for my trade, of carefully selected chemicals, and under the supervision of the best practical Pyrotechnists of this country.

Having had my stock all destroyed by fire last year, my patrons can rely on getting Fresh Works, and for Brilliancy, Variety and Design, cannot be surpassed.

In addition to the Long Stick Rocket in common use, I offer the PATENT SHORT STICK ROCKET. They are put up in wooded boxes, one dozen each. Can be transported with perfect safety, at much less expense than the old style, and will ascend at least one-third higher. They are fast superceding all others.

I have also the new IRON-CLAD TORPEDOES, put up 25 in a box.

The Daily Commercial

TUESDAY, JUNE 4, 1867.

JUST at present there is a panic in the leading markets among flour dealers. The article has declined two dollars a barrel—(we don't intimate anything of the kind of Pittsburgh,)—within the last ten days, and the price is still going down. The speculative bubble which sent flour up in the neighborhood of twenty dollars a barrel, has thoroughly exploded, and few regrets there will be for the victims.

THE St. Louis Democrat of Saturday publishes letters from leading Georgia and Mississippi markets, received by a commission house in that city, showing a marked falling off in the demand of corn. The letter dated Columbus, Ga., May 22, countermands an order, and says the market is so overstocked that at present prices corn will not pay transportation. It is added, "the crops are promising."

THE solution of the labor question in this country is likely to be facilitated by the immense immigration now flowing to our shores. Even if no special efforts were made, it is but natural that not only agricultural but the principal mechanical pursuits should receive numerous recruits, ready to engage at once for less wages than proprietors are compelled to pay by the combinations which are successful, if in nothing else, in keeping wages higher than the condition of trade in the country will warrant. It is but natural—a necessary consequence, in fact—that this evil should produce this remedy—the penalty of combinations that are an unjust tyranny and that pay little regard to the proper relations of capital and labor.

IT is pretty safe to conclude that General SHERIDAN is doing about right in New Orleans, since both extremes clamor for his removal by the President. The N. O. Republican, very radical, would run the risk of getting the man ANDREW JOHNSON would send, if it could get rid of the General. But the New Orleans Tribune, owned and conducted by a colored man, and speaking for colored men, energetically sustains SHERIDAN, and says his administration has been eminently judicious and successful. The rebel press keeps silent, hoping that the quarrel will result in the removal of the man, who, above all others, they hate. But the patriotic men of the land are with SHERIDAN, because he is with them and does his duty without a sign of flinching. The truth is, the President, backed by the extremes of both sides, is not strong enough to remove General SHERIDAN, and there is not much reason to fear he will be disturbed.

GREELEY, DAVIS AND THE PEOPLE.

The release of DAVIS, the most conspicuous, if not the most malignant traitor of them all, has aroused more feeling and elicited more expressions of indignation than were expected when the legal performance was gone through with. The natural and probable consequence will be, that the loyal people will demand, with their accustomed energy in behalf of what is right, that DAVIS shall be subjected to a fair and lawful trial for the crime against the country with which he is charged. And this demand they will be apt to press with all the energy and earnestness, which they have been, for these years past, accustomed to exhibit in matters connected with the honor and safety of the Republic.

It is not that anybody entertains a vengeful sentiment towards DAVIS personally, or that any one cares to see him dangling from the limb of a sour apple tree. But there is a spontaneous sense of justice in the minds of the people that is outraged and even alarmed at such egregious trifling in a momentous judicial case. While the arch-traitor was in duress, even though it was only a sort of easy and elegant seclusion, there was a feeling among the loyal people, that some show of respect was rendered to justice by the administrators of government, and there was no sign of impatience at the delay of trial. But when the culprit is released on a sort of sham process of bail, and with the attendant intimation—if not official, yet of high authority—that it is equivalent to an exemption from further responsibility for the crime of treason, the outburst of indignant loyalty through the country could not be restrained.

Mr. GREELEY's connection with the transaction, although manifestly expected, and therefore sought, by the counsel of DAVIS, to befog the Republican people in regard to it through their respect for Mr. GREELEY, has had no such effect. If anybody was befogged and befooled in the premises it was Mr. GREELEY himself. The Republican people view his action as they viewed some of his other actions, as the outgrowth of a constitutional weakness, generally harmless and always amiable in its intentions, but in this case involving consequences that make it decidedly censurable. And it is not probable that Mr. GREELEY's uncourteous language, since applied to his old friends, will tend either to alter their opinion or to mitigate their censure.

DAVIS has shown a better appreciation of the situation, by transferring himself without delay altogether out of the political area, or, in other words, by taking the opportunity of escape while it offered. The plan may be successful, so far as he is concerned, but the deliberate defrauding of justice will bring responsibility on somebody, at the tribunal of loyal public sentiment.

THE UNITED STATES AND JAPAN.

In old times—and in reference to some things, twenty years will carry us back over the border into the old times era—a voyage to China or Japan was a half year affair, and was associated with horrid visions of tedious calms under the Equator and of fearful gales at the Capes. A few years' improvements have imparted a double-quick character to the speed of ocean navigation, and so shortened the time, if not the length of voyages. Besides our country has itself taken, as it were, a long march in the direction of these distant oriental lands, which will, ere a quarter of a century pass, be reckoned and called Occidental. Our country has, by extending itself to the Pacific shore, become a near neighbor of Japan, and has already made good progress in cultivating a neighborly acquaintance and friendship.

The commercial intercourse initiated by the expedition of Commodore PERRY in 1852, has given mutual advantages to the two countries, and has apparently fostered a wish for more extended correspondence. A treaty has been formed that will secure the opening of three additional ports to foreign trade. These are Jeddo, Osaca and Negota, which are to be opened at the beginning of next year. Two, Timoda and Hakodadi, have been accessible to foreign trade since 1854. The trade with that country will increase in value rapidly, and will exert a mighty influence on the people and Government. The intercourse with foreign nations even to the limited extent of it for the past dozen years, has been highly beneficial to them.

The extent and value of this trade will probably be much greater than is generally anticipated. The Island of Japan is 900 miles long and 100 miles broad, and other islands of a similar character amount to about as much more, making in the empire an area of 170,000 square miles. This is densely peopled, having a population larger than that of the United States, although embracing scarcely a twentieth part as much geographical surface. From San Francisco this country is distant but little over 5,000 miles. Between the two, a line of steamers is already plying—a precursor of an immense commercial marine destined to traverse the same route on the completion of the great Pacific Railroad through our Western territories. Our comparative proximity to the eastern shore of the Asiatic continent will give our country increased advantages in the trade and commerce with the nations of that continent. It is in expectation of this lucrative business that the inter-oceanic railroads in progress are pressed forward, since by them will be found the most direct, safe and expeditious communication between all Western Europe and the rich and populous countries of Eastern Asia.

We refer to the subject only in a commercial view. But it is altogether probable that the visit of the Japanese functionaries to this country has reference to the prospective connection foreseen by their shrewdness, and is designed in a measure to prepare their country for it, so that its interest and advantage may be advanced.

JUDGE MELLON'S CHARGE.

The whole community should congratulate itself on having judicial officers like those which preside in the various courts of this county. Judge MELLON in his charge to the Grand Jury does not proceed far, and he warns the Jury that they will not, in their investigations, proceed far, before coming to intemperance as a fruitful source of crime.

The Judge gives a full and fair exposition of the laws relating to the sale of intoxicating drinks in the county. These laws, particularly the more recent enactments by the last Legislature, he shows to be sufficiently stringent in their provisions, to make the liquor selling business one of the most critical and dangerous, to those engaged in it. Under penalties to the Commonwealth for violation of the law, and under liabilities for damages to all relatives and other persons injured through the intoxication of any one,—the liquor dealer will be in danger of prosecution every day and hour, and under inducements to it which will be almost sure to make it a common occurrence.

The Judge not only gives an interpretation of the law, showing how extensive and minute is its applicability, but he also gives a pledge of the court to strict fidelity in the enforcement of the law to cases brought before it, and moreover invokes the co-operation of the citizens in securing its maintenance. The public interests, the safety of persons and property, the peace of families and the welfare of all citizens will be subserved, if the principles of the law, as illustrated in this excellent charge, shall be applied in the administration of it in individual cases, as we have reason to believe they will be. It will be well for those concerned in the business and not very particular about how they sell, to be ready to meet their responsibility, or, in the cant phrase, to stand from under.

HYDROPHOBIA.—Dr. Hedges has published an article, four columns long, on this subject, and the gist of it is what we have before stated, viz.: That if the wound is excised within an hour after affliction and nitrate of silver applied it prevents the disease.

THE latest shipment of specie by the Saturday steamers from New York was $777,143. This very moderate amount shows that really little is at present maturing on mercantile account, and that the high rates of exchange are chiefly due to the settlement of bankers' balances, which have been largely increased by the maturing of May coupons.

FATHER DE SMET has gone among the Indians to induce them to cease their warfare on the whites. He has in former times performed good service in this uninviting field. The New York Commercial is of the opinion that "he ought, with all the experienced priests he can associate with him, to be employed by the Government to exert themselves in inducing the Indians to live in peace with us."

WE understand that the Imperial Commission of the great French show offers a prize for poems in honor of Peace. A thousand bards have already competed, and if the field is open to our poetasters, we suspect that "a hundred thousand, and a hundred thousand more," will be added to the number. Should the French Emperor conclude to become a competitor, his contribution will doubtless be in the shape of a new gun, more destructive than any yet known.

THE Fall River, Colorado, correspondent of the St. Louis Republican speaks of a new method in successful practice there, of reducing refractory ores, and extracting from them their precious metals. It is claimed for the process that it will save from eighty to ninety-seven and a half per cent. of the assay value of the ores. But the editor very much doubts whether any practical method has been discovered for extracting such a large proportion of metal.

THE Richmond Examiner says a young man of that city was much surprised on being waked, the morning after his marriage, by his wife sitting up in the bed, flapping her arms ala wings, stretching out her neck and crowing repeatedly, in exact imitation of a rooster. He learned that from birth such has been her custom, that while sound asleep, at daybreak she sits up, crows and lies down again. The reason given is that pevious to her birth her mother was badly frightened by the crowing of a Shanghai under her window.

A LETTER from Bainbridge, Ky., gives a sickening account of the deliberate murder of an ex-Union soldier, by a rebel, on the 23d ult. The murderer is openly traversing the country, shooting Union men and is lionized by the people, while women went, in squads, to see and laugh over the corpse, and insult the widow, mother, sister and brothers of the deceased by coarse remarks, such as that the feet of the corpse should be cut off and put inside the head, as the coffin was too short, &c., &c. When will the people become civilized?

IN Paris there are thirty industrial associations, on the co-operative plan, or similar to that lately adopted by the Northwestern Manufacturing Company, in Chicago. The plan is approved after trial, and is rapidly extending. Chair makers, last makers, masons, spectacle makers, and others, have organized, and not only the incomes but the morals of workmen are said to be improved. In Lyons they have thirty successful co-operative stores, and all over France the socialistic principle is thus coming into practice, while England is also making progress in the same direction.

THANKFUL for small favors, the Chicago Tribune congratulates itself, and loyal people generally, that his most serene highness, Mr. Jefferson Davis, is not extensively lionized. "He was not invited to the Clay Statue celebration," and receives little notice from the press! Other singular omissions, Mr. Tribune—Barnum has made no attempt to secure him for his museum; he has not been invited to Pittsburgh, to attend the fair for a "soldiers' monument." Chicago has not sent for him to deliver a Fourth of July address. Mr. Johnson and cabinet have not called upon him. Congress has not met to invite him to the capital. In fact, Mr. Davis has been so severely let alone, so persistently neglected, that we have much reason to be gratified with the evidences of a proper spirit on the part of our people. The manes of our departed heroes must be pleased by the odium cast upon treason in our coolness toward Mr. Davis.

IN Huntington (Ind.) they have sent a preacher to prison two years for stealing horses, buggies, &c. He plead guilty and congratulated himself on the mildness of his sentence. He has been quite a popular traveling preacher: uneducated, but of commanding appearance, logical, eloquent, dignified and becoming in his demeanor. He preached for the New Lights, Methodists and United Brethren; writes poetry, and says he will write his life in the Penitentiary. Such instances are calculated to make one look upon crime as a disease, and to feel that such a man should have a guardian to go with him and prevent his stealing things, just as we send a boy to lead a blind man. It is said of a wealthy English countess, that she used to warn her friends to put things which she particularly coveted out of her reach, saying: "Put that away, my dear, or I shall certainly steal it."

Maximilian---His Personal Qualities.

An Englishman, familiar with the Emperor, in Mexico, writes of him as a most agreeable, industrious, temperate, and in every way estimable gentleman. He says he rose early, attended punctually to business, ate but two meals, and those plain, drove out daily behind seven cream-colored mules, drove fast to avoid salutations, but always returned these, even of the humblest. He and the Empress were perfect in the art of entertaining, delighting every one by their manner, and the many pleasant things they had to say. Their Summer palace is a gem, and here he caught and preserved insects, hunted and bathed. Was much beloved by thousands of the people of Mexico, of all classes, "pure and innocent-minded as a child," strictly honest, devotedly attached to his wife, and a devout Roman Catholic. When the hoste passed on the street he and the Empress always alighted from their carriage and knealt until it was gone by. Many other amiable and excellent things he did according to this account of his English admirer, but not the least of his virtues was probably that of repeatedly asking the writer to dinner, and on these occasions having his table furnished with everything money could buy. He is or was a model man except that he was "deficient in common sense." This was no doubt the reason he came to America to set up an Empire, and the one lack has done much to counterbalance all his shining qualities.

All About a Princess.

The Paris Jenkins, the veritable, original, old Jenkins, of that veritable, original, old city has been thrown into such a flutter, by the appearance of a princess, that one fears the excitement may prove fatal to the head of the house of Jenkins. A literary baroness, who paints pictures, and "on whom devolves the entire responsibility of sustaining the aristocracy of genius in our capital," once had a pretty, German peasant girl as femme de chambre; pretty peasant sang divinely, old roue Prince de —— heard pretty peasant, and determined to cage this singing bird; old roue offered settlements and persisted in pressing his offers until pretty peasant became alarmed for her safety, and wrote to her mother to take her home; old roue found her directing her letter, tore it open, and wrote on it a proposal of marriage, which of course was thankfully received. Pretty peasant became a princess, but, alas! how is she to be received into good society? No trouble about the old scamp to whom she sold herself. He had a free pass, but the pretty peasant princess was not so fortunate. Literary baroness undertakes to smuggle her in, and invites a large party. Jenkins shivers at thought of the risk to literary baroness and pretty peasant, who are to ascend the Matterhorn; will they get up, or by one hairsbreadth false step, plunge over a precipice into an abyss ten thousand fathoms deep? The daring attempt is to be made. Paris stands breathless. The day, the hour, the moment arrive. The spectators are assembled. This climber to the dizzy height enters, tied fast to her experienced guide. The costume is perfect, "rich silken material, cut in the quaint fashion of the humble class to which, by birth, she belongs." This graceful acknowledgement gives Jenkins a breath. There is no jewel of any kind to awaken envy; "but a rich, flame-colored ribbon, which she wore, bore the insignia of the order of which, by marriage, she becomes a member, and the thick masses of her rich, golden hair were plaited on her forehead, in exact imitation of the peculiar crown belonging to his princely house!" She spoke at once, with easy grace, of her pleasure and surprise in seeing the improvements in the house, thus relieving the torturing anxiety of Jenkins to know whether the princess would ignore, or patronize the peasant, but this settled the question, and leaning gracefully upon the baroness on one side, and the former peasant on the other, the princess read the assent, received the plaudits of the assembled multitude, and has recently taken her seat in the highly rarefied air of good society. Jenkins has wiped the cold perspiration from his brow, and the stupid old world is jogging on as if nothing overwhelming had occurred since the flood.

Hayti.

The people of Hayti are hailing Salnave as the Garibaldi of Hayti. The Senate has offered him the Presidency; but he refuses to take that place from any power less than the people, who will probably elect him. He is everywhere received with acclamation, and shows commendable moderation. Soulouque will probably return, with other exiles, but there is no prospect that he will take part in public matters. He was always weak and vain. The pomp of his empire was but an imitation of the parvenu airs of Napoleon the First, who, instead of binding the Republican spirit of his age to his support by republican simplicity of life and government, out Cæsared Cæsar, and attempted to out Cleopatra Cleopatra in his munificence and knightly etiquette. The ex-Emperor of Hayti is now nearly eighty, half paralyzed and without friends. So there is no probability of his restoration, while the prospects are fair for a rigorous, republican government.

A DECIDED HIT.—During the progress of one of the Baptist Anniversary meetings at Chicago on Monday, while E. D. Jones, Esq., of Missouri, was speaking, a gentleman in the audience cried out, "Please stop, Brother Jones! I can't hear all that these ladies and gentlemen around me are saying!" This, as a reporter says, was a decided "hit," and brought down the house.

AN Omaha dispatch says the rumored removal of Durant, as business manager of the Union Pacific Railroad, is confirmed by formal notice published here by authority this morning. Its affairs are to be controlled by Sidney Dillon and a committee. Mr. Dillon arrived this morning. The change in the management of the Union Pacific Road causes no interruption in the progress of work and no commotion.

THE United States Government has made the first step towards taking possession of our new Russian possessions. Secretary McCulloch has telegraphed to the Collector of San Francisco to send an agent to Sitka, Russian America, who will see that no goods, either foreign or domestic, are received there except those upon which duties have been paid. No spirits will be allowed in the country until regular possession is taken of it. This officer is to have charge of the custom house business until a regular collector is appointed.

GENERAL BUTLER has been made defendant in another suit growing out of his New Orleans administration. One William M. Britton has commenced an action against him, to recover $7,560, which he alleges was fraudulently taken from him by the defendant while in command at New Orleans. Having occasion to pass the pickets, he says he was stopped, searched, and a check for the above amount taken from him, which Butler is said to have subsequently converted to his own account. On motion of defendant's counsel, the case was transferred to the U. S. Courts.

THE city of Queretaro, where Maximilian was captured, is the capital of the State of Queretaro, about one hundred and twenty miles north of the City of Mexico. It contains 40,000 inhabitants, whose principal business is the manufacture of cotton and woolen goods. One-third of the people are Indians. It is supplied with water by an aqueduct from a spring in the mountains, about nine miles, whose lofty arches stretch across the fertile plain, and give it an air of great magnificence. It has several fine buildings, and several convents,—that of Santa Clara is very extensive and rich.

A RAILROAD meeting was held at Santa Fe, New Mexico, on the 11th ult., and was attended by a large proportion of the more prominent American residents of the Territory, together with a large number of the native notables. Resolutions were adopted expressing a warm interest in the project of a railroad connecting the Atlantic with the Pacific through New Mexico, and promised the heartiest co-operation in all measures to carry it into effect. A committee was appointed to prepare and publish a paper setting forth the resources and capabilities of New Mexico, and several persons designated to accompany surveying parties as guides.

IT is denied that certain American firms have obtained a monopoly to navigate certain rivers in China. But the truth is that, nevertheless, the monopoly virtually existed, not by any special grant, however, but because the American houses referred to have placed magnificent American steamers on these waters, which defy the competition of the slower and less commodious vessels of their British competitors. And, although British merchants did not give up the struggle till they had built or purchased and navigated steamers of American build, the British flag on these rivers has at last gone down before the superior enterprise, economical management and business capacity of our friends.

IT is a fact worthy to go permanently upon the record, that the horse Ethan Allen, last week, trotted a mile in two minutes and nineteen seconds. It was a match for $1,000, mile heats, best three in five to wagons, between Ethan Allen and running mate and Brown George and running mate, came off on the Fashion Course. Ethan Allen and his running mate won the first in 2:29, the second in 2:25, and the third, after a magnificent race, in the unprecedented time of 2:19. This time is the fastest on record in a race with running mates, and beats that made by Ethan Allen himself with his running mate Socks (2:19 3-4) against Flora Temple six years ago over the same course. Ethan Allen is now 18 years old, consequently the performance is as extraordinary as it is unparalleled.

Special Attractions at the Exposition.

It is a humiliating fact, which cannot be explained ethnologically, that the amount of patronage at these cafes in the Exposition is determined almost entirely by the girls who dispense the viands and fluids. An Egyptian beauty, with argent-lidded flashing eyes, tawny skin and ripe voluptuous lips, had it all her own way at first. The vilest coffee was retailed with impunity, and passionate admirers swallowed it by the pail full, and wished that they could say a good word for Pharaoh in the vernacular. Then there was an importation of English girls with a sunny mountain gorge of hair on their heads, and eyes that were blue and calm and perilously deep. The Egyptian was deserted, and there was a rush for the English restaurant. Young men of susceptible temperaments could be seen with a sandwich in one hand, and a glass of pale ale in the other, planting the seeds of early suicide, and sighing sadly between each distracted mouthful. Presently came the Hollanders with astonishingly high dresses, both in the region of the neck and of the ankles, and a great casque of gold fastened to their heads, and a vast quantity of light muslin in unexpected places. The novelty was irresistible, until the Bavarians produced a superior article, and commanded the fickle patronage of the gallant world. The struggle at present is between the beauties of the Bavarian bar and those of Vienna. In the halls of the latter is a dazzling creature supposed to come from the Tyrol, and dressed in the picturesque costume of that land—a distracting emanation of bad taste and fine needle-work. The Russian department, for the moment, is under a cloud. The competition has been too rapid. But the fair Russe—I know not if her name be Charlotte—who yet hands you a pate with her plump and wholesome fingers, had her day of triumph, and there are slaves who yet prostrate themselves in her presence.—Paris Correspondence.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

NEW ROUTE TO OIL REGIONS.

The Jamestown and Franklin Railroad will be ready for business by the 10th inst., and as it will be the most direct route to Pittsburgh, the people of Franklin and the Venango oil region are in hopes of a revolution in the coal trade, and a fall of fancy prices generally.

NEW PROJECTS.

The East Pennsylvania Railroad extension from Allentown to Easton, to connect with the Morris and Essex railroad, will shortly be pushed through to completion by the Reading railroad company, in order to secure a through route of their own from New York to Harrisburg. The line of the road will be along the Bushkill creek, striking that stream in the neighborhood of Seipsville, and will cross the Delaware at Getter's Island.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Hocking Valley Railroad Company, held on the 23d ult., a large number of bids were received, and a satisfactory contract has been finally made with Messrs. Dodge, Case & Co., for the construction of the road, on favorable terms. Work will be commenced immediately, so as to secure the earliest practicable completion of the road from Cincinnati to Lancaster. The work on the balance of the road will be commenced as soon as the right of way can be obtained.

A project of great importance to the business and traveling public, in connection with the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, is reported to be on foot. It contemplates the extension of the track of this road from Columbus, Kentucky, (its present terminus,) to a point opposite Cairo, on the south side of the Ohio, and a bridge over the Ohio even is talked of. It is stated that work is to commence at both ends simultaneously, and pushed forward as rapidly as possible. This will render railroad communication from Chicago with Memphis, New Orleans, Mobile, and other Southern cities continuous, and thus remove a great source of annoyance and delay in the transportation of passengers and freight. Cairo aspires to become an important railroad center, being about to vote on a proposition to take $100,000 stock in a railroad projected between that place and Vincennes.

THE LEHIGH VALLEY RAILWAY EXTENSION.

The Wyoming extension of the Lehigh Valley Railroad was formally opened on Wednesday last. This extension is from White Haven to Wilkesbarre. This railway, first known as the old valley road, extending from Bethlehem to White Haven, now covers a more important field of industrial development, and will ere long reach to Waverly, about one hundred miles further, and connect with the New York and Erie road from that point. A farther extension to Lake Ontario is also a part of this grand scheme, the successful completion of which will afford an outlet on Lake Ontario for the coal and other products of the Wyoming and Lehigh valleys, for the region of the Upper Susquehanna and Western New York. It will therefore be seen that the opening of this road, regarded either as to its present condition or its promise, forms an important event in the railroad history of our State and country.

RAILROAD CONVENTION IN FULTON COUNTY.

The Fulton Republican says: In pursuance with authority invested in us, we announced that there will assemble a Convention at Harrisonville, on Saturday, the 8th day of June next, at 10 o'clock A. M., to consider the practibility of building a railroad from the Broad Top Coal Region to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at or near Hancock, Maryland, and to adopt initiatory measures for the same. The several townships and boroughs of this and adjoining counties are urgently requested to send delegates, not exceeding six from each, to represent such districts in said convention. The public are earnestly solicited to attend. This is signed by Messrs. D. F. Christmit, K. A. Moore and D. Hamilton, Committee.

READ! READ! READ!

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., May 29th, 1867.
MESSRS. FAHNESTOCK & HOLTON:
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Gentlemen—This is to certify that I have been a sufferer with Chronic Diarrhœa for about eighteen months, and have tried several different remedies recommended for this class of disease, and have been treated by different Physicians, and they all failed to effect a cure. About four weeks ago I was recommended to try Mishler's Herb Bitters, and I bought one bottle and have used its contents; am happy to say that I feel myself entirely cured, and quite a different man. It has arrested the complaint, and effected, I think, a permanent cure. I must add that my case was so bad that I was prevented from attending Church for some time. I am now using the Bitters on my daughter for a disease of the blood, which arose from Diptheria, having caught a severe cold while suffering with Diptheria. You are at liberty to publish the above if you see proper.
Yours truly, H. WALTER.

FILES! FILES!
THE AUBURN FILE WORKS
AUBURN, NEW YORK,

Would call the attention of manufacturers and those using Files and Rasps to the superior article of HAND CUT FILES, which they are now making from the best quality of Cast Steel, consisting of Flat, Hand, Mill, Saw, Round, Half Round, Square, Taper Saw Files, Horse Rasps, and all other kinds, which are in no respect inferior to any now made.

It accords neither with our taste or our principle to assert that our Files have never been approached by any other manufacturer. The Files must speak for themselves, and those who wish to purchase largely are sufficiently wise to accept the evidence of the files rather than the assertion of the manufacturers.

Your orders may be left with T. H. RICHARDS, Esq., 30 Fifth street, Pittsburgh, where samples of some of the principal kinds may be examined and prices obtained. Your orders will be carefully executed at the manufactory, and warranted to give satisfaction or Files returned.

We have permission to refer to the Pittsburgh Novelty Works, who are now using our work to their entire satisfaction. Under date of November 28, 1867, they say:

"The files give general satisfaction in regard to "temper and cut. The only objection we find is, "they are cut too fine for our use. A coarser cut "would suit us better. Please remember this when "we send another order."

Also of May 6th, 1867, enclosing draft for $183 73.

"Your Files give satisfaction, and you have per"mission to use our name in regard to their "quality."

Please call and examine samples before placing your orders.

H. G. THORNTON.

BARNEY'S
PATENT SASH.
Advantages Claimed.

1st. NEATNESS—Both Sash appearing as one.
2d. CLEANLINESS—A close fitting rabbit excludes soot and dust.
3d. COMFORT—Air drafts are also excluded, and rattling prevented.
4th. SAFETY—Allowing of the simplest and most effective application of sash bolts.
5th. ECONOMY—Any window can be speedily altered at trifling cost.

By an ingenious method, though the upper and lower sash are flush, one immediately over the other, and rabbited, yet when not closed, they pass each other as usual.

welcome June! We hail your coming with delight,
I hope for sunshine, warmth, and pleasant weather,
we can venture forth at morn, quite sain of no rain for twelve good hours together;
overcoats, umbrellas, can be left at home,
out the sunshine; let the balmy breezes blow,
the Sou' West corner of the ethereal dome, banish the rude East Wind—"long winded" fellow—
ocean caves, there to riot with the waves, next December. He's blown his trumpet long enough,
is locality—he's a cutting fellow, and behaves with those whose constitutions are not tough.
"Jennie June," pray don't "stop over" every remarkable desire to read the Bible has n itself in France, which is said to be due sensation produced by the works of Re. The number of Bibles sold in France ear was 66,873. The circulation of the in Germany last year was over 600,000; in 3,618 copies; Russia, 65,611; in Turkey, s; in Austria, 156,000; Poland 34,425 copies. figures show an immense increase in the nd for the Scriptures.

ntion is made in our exchanges of a Con pig which has an elephant's trunk and e in the centre of its forehead. The Con ent police should be put on this pig's , for if he has an elephant's trunk he has ink that does not belong to him. It is, ver, surprising that so experienced a trav as the elephant should not have a railroad , or some other proof of his ownership of runk. This, however, is no mitigation of ne eyed pig's offense, which certainly af an opportunity for the police.

e British Premier said in the House of , a few days ago, that ritualism was total tagonistic to the spirit of the Church of and, and he should advise Her Majesty ac ngly.

English journal, remarking upon the re invention in France of a wonderful can which can be carried by two men, says 'just as one set of inventors is engaged in ing means of carrying maimed men out battle, another set is employed in im ing the means of maiming and rendering mere portable."

e work of home missions and church ex in Scotland is remarkable. In 1833 Dr. mers began the work, and in one year he as many churches built as the entire Church otland had erected in the preceding centu d a half. In seven years he saw two hun and twenty-two churches built under the ment he set on foot.

singular typographical error the title of ticle in an exchange reads: "Cincinnati n by a stranger—how it stuck him."

man in Milwaukee works up dead dogs at ofit of about $2 30 each. The skins are for gloves, the hair for ma tresses, and bodies are boiled to secure the grease and n, while the bones are ground up for deo ers. Why don't he turn butcher, and sell neat in the market, and in that way make imes as much? The Milwaukee man is a way behind his time.

e Troy Whig gives an account of a suit h has been oscillating in their courts for n years. A teamster was killed by a loco ve in '55. His wife sued for damages. e Gould decided that his death was the re of want of care, and reported to submit the ence, on that point, to the jury. The coun ppealed, and after three trials at the Circuit t and three arguments before the Court of eals, the case was sent back for a new trial, h has resulted in a verdict of $5,000 dam to the widow and six children.

PERSONAL.

The New York Gazette's article, descriptive ames Gordon Bennett, says: "The train aison at Washington is very sumptuous— ages, horses, suites of rooms, etc., being ided for all guests whose company is de . The table is under the supervision of an rienced chef de cuisine (it's quite impossible alk about elegance of cookery, etc., without g these French words), who sets an elabo feast, or dejeuner a la fourchette, at eleven ock every morning, and winds up the culi triumphs of the day with a Sardanapalan er at six. Mr. Bennett himself never par s of these dyspeptic-tending joys. He pre an egg and a cup of coffee about six in the ning, something simple in the way of lunch e eleven o'clock dejeuner, and the plainest uppers in the midst of the sherbets and mpagne at 6 P. M. He goes to bed at nine ock every evening, leaving to others of the ily the task of entertaining the assembled sts.

—Those who care to read all about Prussia be glad to know that there have just ap red two volumes of Herr Eberty's "Ges htedes Preussischen Staats." These vol es, it is said, bring the story down to the cession of Frederick the Great, so that they y be taken as an introduction to Carlyle's tory of Frederick.

—Two original documents, illustrative of akspeare, have been discovered by Canon kson in the collection of the Marquis of h, at Longleat. These are, a letter, (date, ween 1558 and 1564,) with seal, addressed Lord Robert Dudley, Master of the House, m Thos. Lucy, Esq., of Sharlcot, county rwick, the original of "Justice Shallow;" d a letter (date about 1574-5) to the Earl of icester from the Earl's "Players." Both published in the last number of Notes and eries.

—Mr. Beecher lately declared that a collision tween Prussia and France would be like the ash of iron and pottery—Prussia being the n. This phrase has been so much spoken of d discussed that a meeting of the "Coberie ub"—a society for debate—is called to dis s the question of the superiority of France er Prussia.

—The late John Henderson, of Park, Scot d, has left £64,000 for religious purposes, of hich £36,000 is for the United Presbyterian hurch; £2,000 for the Glasgow City Mission; ble Society of Scotland £10,000; the Walden n Church £5,000, and the balance to French d Swiss Protestant Churches.

—Ferdinand Freiligrath, the eminent poet, ho has been an exile from Prussia for nearly enty years, will shortly be presented by his llow Germans with a money testimonial, hich, it is hoped, will enable him to relinquish e drudgery of those commercial pursuits in hich he has hitherto been engaged, and to vote himself entirely to literature.

—Henry D. Cook, brother of Jay, and the anager of the Cooke banking interest in ashington, has but just completed one of the ost elegant residences in the District, adjoin g one of the most enticing suburbs of George wn. A recent purchase of some thirty or rty acres of magnificent "heights" overlook g the city and Potomac river, has influenced m in selling his present splendid habitation, d entering upon the erection of a new and ore expensive mansion upon the site just pur ased. Among the most prominent seekers fter the ownership of the homestead about to discarded, is Gen. Butler, and it is reported at the negotiations therefor are pretty well dvanced.

—Robert Ottarson died in Springfield, Pa., st week. He had been insane for thirty ears, but recovered his senses on his death d, and conversed intelligently of occurren s that transpired the day and week previous his insanity, making inquiries about a yoke oxen which he had valued, of the work on e farm, and of old neighbors who had been ead for years. The intervening space was a erfect blank in his memory. During all these ears of mental darkness the divine spark had urvived, to be awakened on the very threshold another world.

—Caroline Richings, with the venerable "Peter" in the background, has achieved a fort ight's uninterrupted success in the production f the English Opera in Washington. The roupe has entered upon its third week, and the ndustrious little "directress" has a benefit in rospect tendered by the "solid men" of the city.

—The amount of alimony now accrued in he Forrest divorce case, is over $60,000. Mr. Forrest has been so unlucky in his appeals and motions that one might think he would for swear the courts altogether hereafter; but he s determined that Mrs. F. shall not receive y of his money if he can prevent it, and the ase may soon be heard of in another phase.

MUSICAL ITEMS.

M. Choudens, the music publisher, bought M. Gounod's opera of "Romeo et Juliette," for the sum of 50,000 francs. The first night it was represented, M. Demoine, another pub lisher, offered him 100,000 francs for it, which M. Choudens refused, and he does not repent of having done so. The right of translation has already been sold in England and Germany for 30,000 francs.

At a sale of musical property at Messrs. Puttick & Simpson's, in Leicester square, a violin by Joseph Guarnerius, once the property of Mori the violinist, though much out of condition, sold for one hundred guineas. In the same sale were several other instruments which had belonged to Paganini, F. Cramer, and other celebrated professors, which also sold for large sums.

The Mendelssohn Society of Philadelphia will give a concert on the 6th of June, in that city, under the direction of Mr. Jean Louis. Mendelssohn's "Hear my prayer," the 95th Psalm, and four part songs will be performed. The soloists will be Mrs. Behrens, Miss Blackburne, Miss Cunnington and Messrs. Wenzel Kopta, Theodore Habelmann, H. G. Thunder, D. Cunnington and Theodore Bishop. The society numbers three hundred and five active members.

Elegant musical young men now may be glad that they did not live four hundred and eleven years ago. This is how the King then supplied the vacant places in his band: "The King to his wellbeloved Walter Halyday, Robert Marshall, William Wykes, and John Cliffe, safety. Know ye that We—considering how certain of our Minstrels have now lately gone the way of all flesh, and that we necessarily want others in their places for our solace—have appointed you, jointly and severally, to take (capiendum), wherever they can be found, certain youths, elegant in their natural limbs, and well taught in the art of Minstrelsy, and put them in our service at our wages. And we command you that you look diligently to the premises, and do them, and carry them out in the form aforesaid." Will ye, nill ye, it was in those days. If either a horse or a minstrel was wanted for the King, he had to go.

Before Mdlle. Adelina Patti left Paris for London, she signed with M. Bagier for next season of eight months, to commence the 1st September. Up to the present time the young diva has sung one hundred and thirty times in Paris, and the receipts of her performances amount altogether to the sum of 2,564,500fr.—an average of 11,150fr. (£446) per evening.

It is said that the Emperor of the French has decided on suppressing all military bands, the regiments to be marshalled merely by trumpeters; even the far-famed band of Les Guides is only to be spared for a while. This is bad policy in every way.

The Mass which Liszt has composed for the coronation of the Emperor of Austria as King of Hungary, was to be conducted by himself in person; but an ancient custom confers the honor on all such occasions, upon the Capellmeister of the Court of Vienna, and from this usage, it is understood, no departure will be made in favor of Liszt.

SEALED PROPOSALS.—FOR furnishing one small light draught steamer, sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Superintending Engineer of the Ohio River Improvement, Southwest corner of Third and Market streets, Pittsburgh, until 6 o'clock, P. M., MONDAY, JUNE 10, 1867, for furnishing a small light draught steamer, stern-wheel, suitable for low water engineering and inspecting operations on the Ohio river, to be delivered at Pittsburgh, complete, in good order, ready for immediate use, subject to the inspection and approval of said Engineer.

The hull to be not less than 120 feet long, 18 feet beam, with guards not less than two and a half feet wide. Draught, with 20 tons of coal on board, not more than 15 inches. Double engine, cylinder each not less than 9 inches, not less than 3½ feet stroke, with flue boilers sufficient to run her ordinarily ten miles an hour in still water.

Bidders will describe their vessels, stating where and when built, length of beam, depth of hold, draught, size of cylinders, stroke, size of wheel, arrangement of cabins, &c., so as to give a clear idea of their character, and name the price. Should any proposal be accepted and finally approved, the vessel will be paid for in one sum, in cash.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids, if it may be deemed to the interest of the Government so to do.

For further information apply at the office in Pittsburgh by letter or otherwise.

By order of the Chief of Engineers of the Army of the United States.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, PA., (late Pittsburgh Trust Company,) Capital 500,000, paid in, with privilege to increase to $1,000,000.
The Pittsburgh Trust Company having organized under the Act to provide a National Currency, under the title of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PITTSBURGH, would respectfully offer its services for the collection of Notes, Drafts, Bills of Exchange, &c.; receive money on deposit, and buy and sell Exchange on all parts of the country.
The success which has attended the Pittsburgh Trust Company since its organization in 1852, will, we believe, be a sufficient guarantee that business entrusted to the new organization will receive the same prompt attention.
Having a very extensive correspondence with Banks and Bankers throughout the country, we believe we can offer unusual facilities to those who do business with us.
The business will be conducted by the same officers and directors.

CITY MATTERS.

THE MONUMENTAL FAIR.

Continued Success---Meeting of the Executive Committee---The Fair to Close on Friday Night.---Receipts thus Far over $12,000.

Another immense crowd assembled at the Monumental Fair, in City Hall, yesterday, and last evening the hall was jammed. The interest excited in the Fair is still on the increase. Every person visiting the Fair, come away well pleased with the hour or two they spent in witnessening the many attractions there. Those who have not been to City Hall are advised, by all means, to go.

MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the Executive Committee was held yesterday morning at ten o'clock, Gen. A. L. Pearson in the chair.

The following characteristic letter from General Pearson was received, but the ladies of the Committee declined at first to receive it, and it was only at the urgent request of General Pearson, that they finally allowed him to withdraw from the contest:

PITTSBURGH, June 3, 1867.

To the Executive Committee of Ladies Monument Association:

I respectfully request that my name be withdrawn from the list of those who are contesting for the beautiful gown given by your Association. While I do not seek to do anything that will in any manner reduce the prospect of obtaining funds for the proposed monument, yet I do not desire to enter into a contest where those who received life lasting wounds are the principal contestants.

I trust your committee will grant this request, and let the "Boys in Blue" fight their friendly battle out on their own line."

I am, ladies, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. L. PEARSON.

In connection with this matter, an advertisement appeared in a Sunday paper which to us seems uncalled for and unjust, and may have been partially the reason for Gen. Pearson's withdrawal from a contest, in which few soldiers of this county are better entitled to enter. The writer undoubtedly was never a soldier, for had he been he would not have forgotten that the persons whom he seeks to ridicule were the originators of the Fair, and the persons who desired to have the gown thrown open to the competition of the "soldiers of the county" instead of confining the contest to two or three.

On motion it was

Resolved, That the soldiers' orphans of the Phillipsburg Institute be requested to attend on Thursday.

A general invitation to attend the Fair was extended to the children of the Home for the Friendless and various other charitable institutions. The boys of the House of Refuge were also invited to attend.

It was decided to admit the children of the public schools of the city, where they come in a body, at ten cents a piece.

It was resolved that the Fair close on Friday evening next; that all open voting for the various articles be closed on Thursday evening, and sealed votes received on Friday until nine o'clock P. M.

The Committee decided to meet daily during the remainder of the Fair at eleven o'clock A. M.

At the meeting a subject of some interest was presented. A misunderstanding had existed at the booth where the silver set for the most popular preacher was being voted for, as to whether colored pastors are entitled to be voted for. The Committee unanimously decided that the voting was to be without distinction of color or sect.

The soldiers' orphans of the Phillipsburg Institution are expected to arrive at the Fair on Thursday at 10½ o'clock A. M.

THE BOOTHS.

A number of new articles are daily being placed on the various booths in the Fair, which are meeting with ready sale. The Art Gallery, Curiosity Shop, Floral Pagoda, Express Office and Soldiers' Home Booths are attracting especial attention. The ladies in charge of the respective booths are working most energetically, and are reaping an abundant harvest.

THE SUBSISTENCE DEPARTMENT.

This department is doing a very extensive business, and a splendid dinner is set up daily. A grand extra dinner will be provided to-morrow afternoon, at half-past three o'clock, after the usual dinner. The price will be $2 50 a person. A large number of ladies are to send contributions to this dinner, and it will be a grand affair. The number of tickets are limited, and persons desiring to secure them should do so at once.

THE PRIZE ARTICLES—THE VOTING.

The voting on the various prize articles is still kept up with spirit. At the closing of the polls, last night, the vote on the prize hose carriage was as follows: Hope, 640; Friendship, 591; Relief, 2; Duquesne, 1.

Voting on the silver horn, was as follows at the closing: Independence, 88; Good Intent, 83; Friendship, 9; Eagle, 7; Vigilant, 3; Relief, 1; Niagara, 1.

For the chair, for the most popular Post of the G. A. R., the voting was as follows: Post 36, 146; Post 3, 37; Post 4, 30; Post 35, 21; Post 44, 1.

The following was the vote on the gold-headed cane, for the most popular official: Capt. Samuel Kilgore, 49; James H. Gray, 14.

The contest on the gown, for the most popular soldier, stood as follows at the close of the Fair: B. Frank Weyman, 264; W. E. Stockton, 231; scattering, 40.

The balloting for the base ball implements was as follows: Enterprise, 166; Allegheny, 143; Hygeia, 44; Lincoln, 36; Resolute, 4.

The following was the result of the ballot at the closing, on the silver tea set, for the most popular minister, without regard to color: Rev. John R. Paxton, 45; Rev Dr. S. F. Morgan, 34; Rev. Jesse Divine, (colored,) 29; Rev. Dr. Preston, 24; Rev. Herrick Johnson, 10; Rev. Fuller, 6; Rev. Dr. Jacobus, 4; Rev. Dr. Howard, 3; scattering, 5.

An old silver watch is being contested for by the members of the Subsistence Committee, at the cashier's desk. The votes are on the most reasonable terms; five for a cent. The watch is warranted not to keep good time. The voting on it last night, resulted as follows: W. P. Weyman, 1,255; Joseph Albree, 1,155; scattering, 145.

Mrs. E. H. Adams has presented to the Fair a beautiful banner, which will be contested for by the several schools.

The large pipe, a beautiful piece of workmanship, made by a Union prisoner at Andersonville, was raffled off at the Sunny Side booth last evening, and was awarded to Louis Conrad. A sewing machine and silver set will be raffled off at this booth to-morrow evening.

THE RECEIPTS.

The receipts of the Fair yesterday amounted to about eighteen hundred dollars, making the total receipts up to last night over twelve thousand dollars.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

The Treasurer acknowledges the following contributions: From the workmen of the Black Diamond Steel Works, $300; from Rev. James Prestley, D. D., $20; Miss K., $10; Mrs. Thos. Williams, $10; cash, $5; three barrels of crackers from S. Marvin & Co.; one large cake from Miersch & Bro. Also a large amount of printing done by W. S. Haven and W. G. Johnston & Co. Carpenter work and lumber from S. Wilson & Bro., and loan of glass and China ware from R. Breed & Co., and Bakewell, Pears & Co.

Mayor McCarthy as a Detective.

Some weeks since mention was made in the COMMERCIAL of the arrest of the notorious Johnny Walls on a charge of selling liquor on a covered flatboat, which had been moored in the Allegheny river, at the foot of O'Hara street. Johnny gave bail at the time for his appearance at Court, but subsequently re-established himself in his boat, and has since been carrying on a very flourishing business. At an early hour on Sunday morning, Mayor McCarthy, while walking through the Fifth ward inspecting the night police, ascertained that a number of disreputable men and women had congregated on Wall's boat, and were conducting themselves in a disorderly manner. He immediately called upon officer Dowers, and the two proceeded to the boat. Upon looking through a window Walls and a female assistant were discovered dealing out ale to a half dozen customers, who appeared to be enjoying themselves hugely. As soon as the Mayor, however, appeared upon the scene, the customers made a hasty exit, leaving Walls and three females to their fate. The Mayor informed Walls that he thought he had the "dead wood" on him, a fact which Johnny could not deny. The officer was stationed at the door of the boat, and the Mayor taking a candle, instituted a search through the establishment, but upon returning to the main room, discovered that Walls had managed to escape. Noticing two valuable dogs tied in the boat, the Mayor took possession of them, leaving word for Johnny to call at the Mayor's office where he could recover his property. The Mayor then left the boat, but returned shortly afterwards, and noticing a light inside pushed open the door, but Johnny could not be seen. The dogs were then taken to the Mayor's office, where they yet remain.

Yesterday Walls made his appearance before Alderman Strain, and entered two charges against Mayor McCarthy—one for larceny, in taking possession of the dogs and their collars, and the other for malicious mischief, in breaking open the door of the boat. A warrant was served upon His Honor, and he was required to enter bail to the amount of $800 for his appearance on Thursday afternoon to answer. How the matter will end remains to be seen.

Last night about midnight, the police succeeded in arresting Walz on O'Hara street, in the Fifth ward, and he is now in durance vile. He will have a hearing this morning before the Mayor, on a charge of illegal liquor selling, and an effort will be made to close his den. The citizens of the Fifth ward, have been annoyed by it for several months past, and any efforts towards its suppression will be appreciated by them.

Aquatics--Challenges Accepted.

Joseph A. Scott, champion oarsman of the Allegheny river, having received challenges from six different parties to row, makes the following reply:

PITTSBURGH, PA., June 3, 1867.

I have received six separate challenges to row three mile races on various terms. I cannot well row them all at once, except in one way. That way I now propose: I will row any six challengers a three mile sweepstakes race on the 21st of June, above the first dam on the Monongahela river, starting at Glenwood. Each man will put up $50, making a total of $300, to be divided into a first prize of $200, and a second prize of $100.

JOS. SCOTT,
Champion Oarsman, Allegheny River.

Daniel Jordan, who was challenged by Joseph Kay, Jr., to row a race on either river, distance two or three miles, has accepted the challenge to row a Scull Race on the Allegheny river, for a purse of one hundred dollars.

County of Allegheny vs. W. A. Herron. This is an action to recover $5,000 alleged to be due the county from fees for licenses received by defendant during his term as Clerk of Courts. On trial.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Before Judge Mellon.

The June term of the Court of Quarter Sessions commenced yesterday morning, when Judge Mellon delivered the customary charge to the Grand Jury. The charge will be found in another column.

The remaining portion of the session was occupied in receiving a number of Executions and Administrator's accounts presented by Register Gray for approval. Jury trials will be commenced to-day.

OBITUARY.—Colonel William Riddle, eldest son of the late Hon. Robert M. Riddle, of this city, died at his residence in Philadelphia, Sunday night. Colonel Riddle, who was about twenty-six years of age, served with distinction in the Union army during the rebellion. He was a member of the lamented General Reynolds's staff at the time that brave officer was killed, and subsequently became a member of Major General Meade's staff, with the rank of Major. He remained in the service until the close of the rebellion, when he returned to Philadelphia. His health, never of the best, began to fail shortly after his return, and he has been an invalid to the time of his death. The funeral will take place from the Union Depot to-morrow morning, at 9½ o'clock, to proceed to Allegheny Cemetery.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Messrs. Simpson, Palmer & Co., Auctioneers, yesterday disposed of lot No. 280 Ohio street, Allegheny, twenty-two by eighty-two feet, upon which is erected a substantial three-story dwelling for the handsome sum of $14,650. The price of real estate in Allegheny has been advancing for a year past, and very little is in the market.

Public Amusements.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Another large and brilliant audience was present last evening, to see and hear Mrs. Lander, in her grand historic representation of "Elizabeth, Queen of England," in which personation she is unrivalled on the American stage. The performance last evening was excellent in every respect, and the intelligent and discriminating audience were enthusiastic in their applause. It is seldom a good play enjoys so excellent a cast as that of "Elizabeth" at the Academy, and the pleasure one experiences in witnessing the performance is a novelty that is highly appreciated. To-night, Mrs. Lander is announced to appear for the last time as "Elizabeth," and as her performance of the character is really one of the finest artistic efforts presented in this city in a long time, those who appreciate true genius and talent should attend.

MASONIC HALL.—The paintings illustrative of Dr. Livingstone's travels and explorations in South Africa, now on exhibition at Masonic Hall, are possessed of much interest, and last evening were admired by a large audience. They are well worth seeing.

THE NEW LICENSE SYSTEM.

Number of Licenses Granted and Refused in the County---Revenue from Licenses, $29,046.

We are indebted to John G. Brown, Esq., Clerk of the Courts, and David Aiken, Jr., County Treasurer, for the following exhibit, showing the total number of applications for license to sell liquor, for the various districts of the county, granted and refused by the Board of County Commissioners, during the months of March and April, and also the amount of money accruing therefrom for the benefit of the Work House:

As will be seen by the above table, the total number of licenses granted during the months of March and April, was 270, the number of licenses refused 73, and the amount of revenue raised for the new Allegheny County Work House and Inebriate Asylum, $14,523. Of the above amount $10,240 were raised from taverns, $2,615 from eating houses, and $1,668 from wholesale houses. The amount for the Work House, is only one-half of the revenue derived from licenses, making the total amount of revenue from the two months named, $29,046. The other half of the revenue goes to the State. It may be proper to remark that the list for April is always larger than during any other month in the year.

Republican County Convention To-day---List of Delegates.

The Republican County Convention will meet this morning at eleven o'clock, at the Court House, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the officers of Prothonotary, County Treasurer, Commissioner, Coroner, and Jury Commissioners. The friends of Mr. Walter claim that he will receive one hundred and thirty votes on the first ballot for Prothonotary, which is forty-six over a majority. Mr. Hultz, however, appears confident, and says that he has no fears for the result. For Treasurer, it is generally conceded that Major Denniston will not receive any serious opposition, while Mr. Clawson will undoubtedly be nominated by a large majority. The contest for County Commissioner will be between Mr. Pilbow, the present incumbent, Mr. Milligan, of McKeesport, and Mr. Joseph B. McDonald, of Allegheny City. For Jury Commissioners, only one or two candidates have been mentioned, but the number will probably be increased this morning.

The following is a correct list of the delegates to the Convention:

A SPECTATOR.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

[Before Alderman Donaldson.]

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Eleanor Hous appeared yesterday and made information against Mary Hurley, for assault and battery. The parties reside on Etna street, in the Fifth ward. The prosecutrix alleged that defendant came into her house, and struck her violently, and, and then called on two other women to murder her. The accused was arrested, and held to bail for a hearing.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

DISTURBANCE IN "HAYTI."

Susan Young yesterday lodged complaint against two women named Mary Porter and Mary Lowry, for breach of the peace. The parties are residents of "Hayti," in the Seventh Ward. The defendants are charged with having assaulted the deponent's house with stones, and threatened her life. Warrants for their arrest were issued.

[Before Alderman Strain.]

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

Wm. McCleary, who was arrested some time since on a charge of larceny, preferred by James Campbell, had a hearing yesterday, which resulted in his being committed to jail for trial.

[Before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham.]

DISORDERLY CONDUCT.

Philopena Deeds made information against Caroline El, charging her with disorderly conduct. The parties reside in East Birmingham. The defendant was arrested and fined one dollar, on payment of which and costs she was discharged.

A DANGEROUS CHARACTER.

David Chess made information against Philip Keena charging him with disorderly conduct and threatening language. It appears that Keena went to the office of the firm of Chess, Smythe & Co., on Saturday, while under the influence of liquor and demanded a certain sum of money, that was due to him by the firm, which Mr. Chess refused to give him while he was intoxicated, telling him to call for the money when he was sober and he would get it. This did not satisfy Keena, whereupon he commenced to swear and behave in an outrageous manner, when Mr. Chess and several clerks of the establishment had to oust him from the office. The defendant was arrested and fined twenty-five dollars, and in default of payment he was committed to jail for thirty days.

CHARGE OF FRAUD.

Dr. Miller, of Birmingham, made information against Richard Senior, charging him with attempting to defraud and cheat him out of his bill. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.—Delegates to the State Medical Society, which will meet in this city on Wednesday of next week, will observe a card elsewhere relative to the arrangements for said meeting. The committee of arrangements have been unremitting in their efforts to provide for the comfort, convenience and entertainment of the members of the Society from abroad, and a pleasant re-union is anticipated.

COUNTY CONVENTION TO-DAY.—The Union Republican County Convention will be held at the Court House, this morning at eleven o'clock, for the purpose of nominating a ticket for county officers.

WHISKY LIBELLED.—Yesterday morning, in the United States District Court, Judge McCandless on the bench, District Attorney Carnahan presented a libel against five barrels of whisky, owned by E. Eising, of New York, which was seized last week by Collector Volz, while in transitu from New York to W. Haslage & Co., of this city, for non-payment of the Government tax. A monition was ordered to issue and made returnable on the 29th inst., directing the owner to appear in behalf of his property.

A PROLIFIC COW.—A short time since, David Stewart, Esq., of Liberty township, gave into the care of Mr. Henry Haltman a very fine cow to pasture. On Sunday night last, the cow gave birth to three fine bull calves, all three similar in size and color, with the exception of a small white star in the forehead of one. The whole three calves are fully developed, and on Monday were doing well. It is the intention of the owner to raise them, and exhibit them at our next State or County Fair.

PETROLEUM ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the Pittsburgh Petroleum Association will be held in their room in Dalzell Building, Duquesne Way, this afternoon at three o'clock, to take into consideration the reduction of the rate of freights on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and other business.

MEETING.—A public meeting, under the auspices of the Fenian Brotherhood, will be held in Lafayette Hall, on Wednesday evening, June 5th. General O'Neill and others will address the meeting.

INDIAN HERB DOCTOR.—DEAR SIR:—I wish to inform you and the public that I have been afflicted for many years with a disease of the blood. I had the advice of our first physicians, without experiencing any benefit. Seeing your testimonials, I determined to make a trial of your vegetable medicine. I have experienced the greatest relief, and feel almost cured. Yours respectfully,

JAS. SWEARINGEN,
Engineer on the Pan Handle Railroad.

REMEMBER—That Sickness at the Stomach, Pain between the Shoulders and in the Right Side, Yellow Suffusion of the Skin, Costiveness, Drowsiness and Languor, Dimness of Sight, Colic, Palpitation of the Heart, Dry Cough, Low Fever, and other symptoms which indicate the various phases of Acute and Chronic Liver Complaint, are, one and all, promptly relieved, and finally removed, by the action of that famous preparation HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which is at once the best of correctives, the gentlest and most genial of aperients, an infallible regulator, and a powerful restorative. Persons of a bilious habit, who use the Bitters as a protective medicine, will never suffer the pains and penalties of Liver disease or Bilious Remittent Fever. No words can do justice to its MARVELLOUS PROPERTIES. It stands pre-eminent among the health-restoring preparations of the age, and every year adds to its fame, not only in this country, but throughout the civilized world.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY EVENING, June 3d, 1867.

The demand for money has somewhat abated, not so much in reality as in the fact that it has become generally known among borrowers that the banks have stopped discounting, and it is disagreeable, to say the least, for any applicant who puts in the right sort of paper, to be refused. Rates on the outside market have appreciated much beyond the views of borrowers, and there is a falling off in requests for loans.

—In local stocks there is nothing doing that will give us a fresh quotation. In all our experience we have never realized such a stagnant local stock market.

—The following are the New York quotations for Governments to Ira B. McVay & Co., Bankers, corner of Fourth and Smithfield streets:

—A cotemporary improving some little on Secretary McCulloch's Boston letter, says: The thing to be observed now is economy, not only on the part of the Government, but by every individual. Diligent employment and the largest possible cultivation of the soil should be the universal rule of observance. When the price of living is brought down there will speedily follow a proper adjustment of the present dispute between capital and labor, and production with a rational spirit of enterprise will render the payment of taxes necessary to the maintenance of the public credit, comparatively easy and effective. The discussion of schemes and systems are of no avail in the present. Everybody appreciates the fact that we have an immense debt on us; that the measure of its weight is its annual interest, and that this must be paid by the product of labor. Whether money is plenty or scarce, has no great bearing on the question, so that there is enough to prevent inconvenience in the exchange of commodities. Finesse and financiering have passed their time in this connection. Those who cannot earn money can do the next best thing—they can study to economize it and save it. The millions, the product of labor, lost in the last seven years, must be met and overcome to recover a healthful financial status, and the only way to this result is that here suggested.

—A dispatch from Albany, New York, says that a splendedly executed counterfeit ten dollar note on the Third National Bank of Philadelphia has been detected. It is in all respects a perfect fac simile of the genuine issue, even to the signatures, which were executed with the pen. The public can judge of the dangerous character of this note from the fact that it passed through the Mechanics and Farmers' Bank of Rochester without detection. The only safe way is to refuse all tens on this bank. Kennedy's Bank Review for June contains a more minute description of this dangerous issue.

—The New York money market is rather easier to-day, at seven per cent. on call for stock collaterals. The bank statement shows a decrease of three millions in loans, three millions in deposits, and two millions in legal tenders, with an increase of half a million in specie. Gold opens dull at 136½, with prospects of a still further decline. The stock market is rather more active, and prices are looking upward. Railways are stronger and there is every prospect of improvement. Gold is steady without any activity. The price of gold is now entirely dependent on quotations of our securities in London and Paris, which have not responded to the general advance of English Consols and Rentes.

—The publication of the income returns, notwithstanding the numerous objections to it, elicits the following remarks from the Providence Journal:

> No just estimate of the incomes of men engaged in commerce or production can be formed from the returns. Many men must pay, for the last year, taxes upon profits that were lost before they were realized. A great house that has just failed, in New York, will have to return an income, it is said, of $800,000, and many men who have not failed, and who do not mean to, return large incomes, but are really poorer than they were before their profits were made, for they have lost them and more with them. If the income tax could be properly levied, and with as much exactness as other taxes, it would obviously be the most equitable that could be imposed, even although the tax might be paid, in some cases, after the income on which it was founded had been lost. But no tax, except the whisky tax, has been subject to such inequalities and frauds. The income tax has not yielded one-half what might have reasonably been calculated from the productive wealth of the country. We believe that the taxes on incomes, whisky and tobacco, at the present rates, would go nigh to the payment of the whole cost of the Government, and relieve the industry of the country from the other grievous burdens imposed upon it. We have thought that it might be better for the assessors to estimate the income as the assessors of local taxes do the personal property of the tax-payer, leaving him the remedy of disclosing his income under oath, in case he was overtaxed.

—A concerted movement is again being made to establish the Cental System. The New York Produce Exchange has issued a circular letter inviting the several Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce to send delegates to meet in convention at some central point, for the purpose of securing united action in regard to this matter. The Board of Trade of Detroit, and the Chamber of Commerce of Milwaukee, have passed resolutions of concurrence, and Cleveland is suggested as the place, and Tuesday, July 16th, as the time for the meeting to take place. The Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce also passed the following resolution, containing a suggestion which we hope to see speedily carried out.

Resolved, That we recommend to the consideration of this Convention the propriety of organizing an association to be known as the National Commercial Congress, which shall hold its session once a year, composed of delegates from all the Boards of Trade in the United States. This body representing all the diversified interests of the country, composed of members of large experience and well acquainted with the commercial wants of the different sections of the country will be more competent to present the necessities of trade, and to organize such plans and institute such measures as shall greatly promote the prosperity of the nation.

Oats dull; sales of western at 77c; Maryland and Pennsylvania 80c. Sugar steady and unchanged. Provisions steady. Whisky nominally 33@35c for bonded.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
MONDAY EVENING, June 3, 1867.

There was no new feature in the General Market, to-day, worthy of special notice. Operations were confined to supply only immediate wants, and these were of the most limited character. We again, however, reduce our quotations on flour 25c ₰ bbl. As the harvest approaches, promising a most bountiful yield, prices of nearly all kinds of produce are gradually declining. In the New York market there has already been a decline in flour to at least $2 ₰ bbl.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale prices unless otherwise stated:

ASHES—We note sales of 3 tons Pearls, at 14c; 10 tons Soda Ash, at 5¼c; and potash at 8½c ₰ ℔.

BEANS—Choice articles of small white beans are quoted at $3 ₰ bushel.

BUTTER—The market continues very dull for all kinds. We quote prices nominal, ranging for choice roll at from 15@20c ₰ ℔.

CHEESE—Sales were made from store of small lots of cheese at 14 to 15@16c for W. R., and 20c for Goshen.

EGGS—Prices from store are 16@17c ₰ dozen. The receipts have been more liberal.

FRUITS—Green Apples are very scarce and in demand at $8 50@10 for choice, with some reported sales of very selected at $11@11 50 ₰ barrel. Dried Peaches are dull at from 12@18c ₰ ℔.

FLOUR—The market is quiet since our last report. We reduce our quotations 25c ₰ barrel. Sales are only to supply immediate wants, and the only demand is for choice brands that can be relied upon. We quote good brands of Spring Wheat selling at $13 50, $13 75@14; Winter at $14 50@15 and medium grades at $12@13 25 ₰ barrel.

CORN MEAL—We quote prices, from store, at $1 15 ₰ bushel.

GRAIN—We have no reported sales of wheat. Prices are entirely nominal.

CORN—The market continues dull and the only offers that we heard, from first hands, were 80@85c for ear, to arrive. One car of corn in Elevator was sold at $1 ₰ bushel, and 200 bushels shelled, yellow, in Elevator at 91c ₰ bushel.

RYE—We have a reported sale of 375 bushels at $1 65 ₰ bushel.

OATS—We have reported sales of 320 bushels, on the wharf at 65c; 150 bushels, from store, at 70c ₰ bushel; 400 bushels from first hands at 72c, and 200 bushels, from store, at 73c ₰ bushel.

HAY—Sales on the wharf of 7 tons at $22 00, and 4 wagon loads, loose, at $24 00@26 00 ₰ ton reported.

LEAD—We note sales of 200 pigs lead at 10½c ₰ ℔.

FISH—Sales reported of 10 bbls No. 3 mackerel at $16 00; 20 half bbls do at $8 50, and 12 half bbls white fish at $8 00, each.

POTATOES—We note sales of 2 cars peach blow potatoes, in lots, at $1 50 ₰ bush.

BACON—The market is active. Sales reported from packers of 12,000 ℔s sugar cured hams at 15¾@16c; 7,000 ℔s shoulders at 9½@9¾c; 4,000 ℔s sides at 11½c, and 15 tierces lard at 13½c ₰ ℔.

LARD OIL—Sales reported from manufacturers of 25 bbls No. 1 lard oil at $1 08, and 20 bbls No. 2 at 87c ₰ gal.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL,
TUESDAY, June 4, 1867.

Business since our last was not very active; buyers and sellers don't seem to agree as to terms. The result was a dull market and a limited amount of transactions. Prices were evidently weaker; we have sales reported down to 7c, being the lowest figure for some days. The receipts yesterday were 6,112 barrels, a portion of which was to fill previous contracts, the balance for sale. The supply keeps pace with the demand. From a careful survey of the Allegheny oil regions the daily productions have been ascertained to reach 9,550 barrels. The production is expected to increase, as some 200 wells, 70 of which are located at Tidioute, are expected to be in successful operation in a few days. The sales of Crude yesterday were 1,100 bbls, as follows: 400 bbls bulk, to arrive, at 7¼c, and 700 bbls light oil at 7c, being equal to 12@12¼c including barrels.

REFINED OIL—The market has undergone no particular change. The sales reported reach 3,500 bbls, extending through the year, as follows: 250 barels Philadelphia, July; 250 do August, 250 do September, 250 do October, 250 do November, and 250 do December, all standard white at 28c for each month; sales 2,000 bbls do, same description of oil, Philadelphia, to be delivered during 1867, buyer's option, at 29c ₰ gallon. Free oil was unchanged as regards prices or demand.

Daily production of oil in the Allegheny oil regions, from a careful survey, together with the location:

PHILADELPHIA.

The market has been a little more active, as usual, says the Commercial List, while settling contracts at the close of the month, but prices have favored buyers, there being very little demand, except for this purpose, and to fill up vessels now on the berth. The sales comprise 2,000 bbls crude at 15¾@16c; 500 bbls do, on the platform in West Philadelphia, at 15½c; 18,000 bbls refined, in bond, at 24, 24¼, 24½, 24¾@25c for P L S to W, and 24½@26c for S W, closing with sales to-day of P L S to W at 23½c, a decline of 1½c; 7,000 bbls S W, for June, at 26@26½c, b o, and P L S to W at 25⅛, 25@24c b o; 3,000 bbls S W for first half of June at 25½c, s o; 1,000 bbls S W for July at 26¼@26½c; 500 bbls S W for August at 29; 500 bbls do do for August, 500 bbls for September at 28c b o; 500 bbls S W for September, at 30c; 1,500 bbls S W for October at 30c, b o; 3,000 bbls S W for May, June and July, on secret terms; 3,750 bbls S W, July to November, (500 bbls each month) at 28c; free at 36 to 41c, and residuum in a small way at $3 75@4. Naptha is nominal at 11c in bond, and 20@21c free. The receipts during the week were 5,860 bbls crude, and 13,270 bbls refined. During the week 9 vessels cleared with Petroleum, for foreign ports, taking 818,024 gallons. The entire export since January 1st was 9,715,061 gallons, against 6,339,851 gallons same time last year.

BOSTON.

The market for Petroleum continues, according to the Bulletin, of Saturday last, much depressed, especially so far as free refined oil is concerned, which is in large stock and offering in lots from the West, at rates so far below the cost of production, as to render it probable that the Federal revenue has never derived any material benefit from it. Neither speculators nor buyers for consumption seem inclined to take hold of the article, and refiners in this region are generally adopting the only alternative open to them, to save themselves and escape this cheap competition, by suspending operations.

There is a moderate demand for bonded oil for shipment to Southern latitudes, and the best brands of Boston manufacture are selling to a fair extent, in barrels and cans, for this purpose. The market for crude oil is firm, with more stiffness in New York and at Western shipping points. The demand for consumption is quite moderate; but at present low rates, which hardly pay the cost of handling and transportation, any change in the article must apparently be for the better.

We quote crude petroleum here at 13@14c ₰ gallon in bulk, and nominally 16@18c in barrels. Refined is selling at 28@32c ₰ gallon for bonded lots, as to brand. Free do is selling at a range of 40@47c ₰ gallon for Western and Boston, up to 50@52c for Downer's kerosene. Naptha is selling at a range of 17@20c ₰ gallon, as to gravity. Residuum is dull at $4@4 50 ₰ bbl.

New York Grocery Market.

Coffee—The market for Rio is inactive, and for all except prime grades there is a heavy feeling, prices being scarcely supported. The demand for other kinds is also light, and the market generally quite dull. The sales are 2,500 bags Rio, per Hitterdoien, before arrival, at 10¼c, in bond, ex ship; 421 do. per Jeremiah, 16½c; 79 do. Skimmings, per same, 15½c, both duty paid; 2,939 do. per Preciosa, 10½c, in bond; 1,600 do. per steamer Merrimack, on terms we did not learn; 200 Laguayra, about 18½c; 70 Costa Rica, 19½c duty paid, all gold; and 1,216 do. Port au Prince for export, on terms not made public. Stock on hand June 1st: Rio and Santos 43,449 bags; Maracaibo 6,867 bags; Laguayra 9,978 bags; Manilla 1,407 bags; Java, Government, 1,431 bags; Singapore 14,508 pockets; Savanilla 331 bags; St. Domingo 694 bags, and Costa Rica 682 bags.

Molasses—An active demand has sprung up since our last for the medium and lower grades for Refining and Distilling, and for the better grades from the trade. The sales have been made at full prices, and the market closed with a better feeling for all grades, and some improvement in prices, particularly for prime Porto Rico. Centrifugal and mixed Cuba have alone been without movement; these not being wanted, have remained quite dull. The sales, with some resales, reach 2,309 hhds and 144 tcs Clayed Cuba at 47@49c; 1,694 hhds, 98 tcs, 209 bbls and 88 half do Cuba Muscovado, 50@60c, mostly 50@55c; 1,634 hhds and 47 tcs Porto Rico, 55@72c, and 658 hhds, 27 tcs, and 47 bbls Barbadoes, part 58@60c, 4 months. By auction, 380 hhds Demerara sold at 43@67½c, and 217 do St. Croix, 60½@62½c, 4 months.

Rice—With reduced stocks and an improved demand, the market is firmer than before, a good business having been done since our last at very full prices. We note 200 tcs Carolina at $11 50@12 50; 1,000 bags Rangoon, in lots, $9 12½@9 75; and 3,250 do, in bond, mostly, $3 75@4 00, gold.

Sugar—A good demand has prevailed for raw since our last, chiefly from refiners, and the market has remained very steady and uniform throughout, at about the currency of Tuesday last, until yesterday, when there was a tamer feeling and a slight concession on some descriptions. We quote fair refining Cuba at 10⅜@10½c; good do. 10⅝c; No. 12 Box 11⅛c; molasses sugar in boxes 9⅝@10¼c; the same in hhds 9⅜@10½c, &c. Refined remains dull, and prices are a little lower; hard 15⅜@15½c; soft white 13⅝@14⅜c, and yellow 12⅝@13⅛c. Messrs. Stuart quote crushed, ground and granulated 15⅛c; white A 14⅛c, and yellow C 14c, which for the soft is a reduction of ⅛c. The sales of raw are 3,283 hhds Cuba at 10⅝@11⅛c; 70 clarified do, 11⅝@12⅛c; 703 Porto Rico, 10⅝@12½c; 22 St. Croix, 12¼c; 125 tcs and 296 bbls Jamaica, 10@10⅞c; 9,000 bags Maracaibo, 10c; 3,000 do brown Pernambuco, 11c; 992 bskts Java, 10¾c, and 115 bxs Havana, 10⅝@10¾c, 4 mos.

Tea—We have to note a quiet market, the demand being confined to the immediate wants of buyers. Sales 699 hf chests Green on private terms.

Fish—Dry Cod are a little higher, but the demand is very limited, and we have only to notice small sales of George's at $6 37½@6 50 ₰ qtl. Mackerel have also become very quiet, but with a small stock, and that in few hands, prices are well sustained. Pickled Herring are still neglected; smoked do are also dull and lower; there are but few of good quality arriving; such are worth 35c for Scaled, and 15c for No. 1, by the invoice; inferior lots of Scaled sell all the way from 16c up to 30c, as to quality.—Commercial List of Saturday.

Cincinnati Provision Circular.

Mr. G. W. Phillips, Jr., in his circular of Friday evening last, says that mess pork has been freely offered at $22 50 for choice city, without leading to much trade. There are buyers at $22 25, and it would be difficult to effect sales at a greater price. Country ranges from $22 to $22 25, with little on the market. Lard was held quite firmly early in the week at 12⅝c for choice city, but met with no demand; it afterwards declined to 12½c, with sales, and closes very dull at this price. Some parties are willing to make a concession of ⅛c, while buyers are not free at over 12⅜c, and for country ⅛ to ¼c less; some prime steam sold at 12c, but it is in light supply; keg dull, 13⅛ to 13⅜c. Greases remain quiet, but steady, at 8¼ to 10½c. Bulk meats—shoulders have ruled dull all the week, with large offerings at 8c loose, and but few sales except at 8⅛c packed; sides have also been quiet, though held firmly at 10c, loose; clear rib are held at 10⅝c, and clear 11⅛c, loose, buyers offering ⅛c less for clear rib, and ⅛c for clear. Hams are in good demand, closing firm at 11⅛c loose, for desirable cuts and averages. Bacon has also been in lighter demand. Shoulders drag at 9c, with but few buyers over 8⅞c; rib sides are freely offered at 11c, without buyers; clear rib in light supply and more demand at 11⅝c; clear sides are dull at 12⅛c, buyers contending for a concession of ⅛c, at which some small sales were made, though 12.20c more nearly represents the market. Hams continue in good demand, especially for plain, which sell freely at 13@13½c, uncanvassed and canvassed and packed, though an advance on these prices is generally asked. Second sugar-pickled Hams sold freely at 14c, canvassed and packed. Sugar-cured, 15@15½c, and steady. Beef hams, 21@21½c, canvassed and packed. Pickled beef hams, $36@36 50 ₰ bbl. Plate beef scarce and firm at $22 50@23 00.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—Business on the landing was dull and freights scarce; boats have to load in turn, and have to wait some time before they can procure a trip. The rains of Sunday have produced another rise. The Monongahela marks indicate seven feet six inches, and swelling slightly. The Allegheny marks nine feet. We counted eleven freight and passenger boats at the landing, and seven tow boats. The latter are getting ready for another start. The Parkersburg packet for this day is the Leni Leoti—noon the hour of departure. The Bayard and Ingomar left yesterday on time. The punctual packet Argosy will be found at the landing this morning. She will return to Cincinnati on Wednesday at noon. The fine steamer Kenton is announced for Memphis and New Orleans this day. She will take Ohio river freights. The Minnie is off this day for Cairo and St. Louis. The next boat in turn is the Importer. Nothing further has been received from the Nora. Business on the Allegheny was dull; most of the boats formerly engaged in that stream have sought other places. The trade is not what it formerly was. A number of boats are due and may arrive at any hour.

Just so. The reporters have laid up for some time. Report says Louisville is going to follow suit.

THE steamer W. A. Caldwell is laid up at Cincinnati undergoing repairs.

TRADE on the Allegheny remains dull. The bulk of the spring business is over.

THE COMMERCIAL yesterday contained river telegrams from the following places: Oil City, Brownsville, Louisville, Memphis and New Orleans.

"OWING to the dull times and the scarcity of produce, the Louisville Tennessee packet Pink Varble has been temporarily laid up."

THE fine packet Argosy, Captain Vandergrift, will be found at the landing this morning. She will return to Cincinnati on Wednesday at noon.

THE fine packet Importer, Captain Noss, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat is in fine order and is in charge of careful and experienced officers.

THE punctual steamer Leni Leoti, Captain Hamilton, leaves to-day at noon for Parkersburg and intermediate ports. This boat has good accommodations and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

THE following Mountain boats passed Yankton, Dakota, as follows: Amaranth and Carrie on the 13th inst; Tacony on the 14th; J. H. Trover and Antelope on the 15th; G. A. Thompson on the 18th; Jenny Brown, Marcella, Graham and Lilly on the 19th.

GLAD OF IT.—Our old friend Capt. S. Hemphill has taken charge of the office of the steamer Kenton. The Captain is one of the most accomplished officers that comes to this port. We are pleased to see him in the office of so fine a packet. Capt. Dunlap is one of those persons that understands his business.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The fine packet Kenton will positively take her departure for Memphis and New Orleans on Tuesday. This day and to-morrow she will take freights for Cincinnati and Louisville. Captain Dunlap is noted for doing business on the square. We take pleasure in recommending boat and officers.

THE splendid steamer Minnie, Captain Shaw, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis, on this day. This boat has superior accommodations and is in charge of as clever a set of officers as can be found. Captain McConnell, who has charge of the office, will see that passengers are well cared for.

BOATS IN PORT.—Minnie, Leni Leoti, Argosy, Kate Putnam, Belle Vernon, America, Columbia, Kenton, Delaware, Importer.

TOW BOATS IN PORT.—O. H. Ormsby, Hyena, Tom Farrow, Lioness, Hornet and Whale. Others are on the way, and may arrive at any hour. The boats in port are making ready for another start. The run of coal this spring is the largest we have ever known.

PASSENGERS and shippers would do well to bear in mind that the punctual packet Kenton, Capt. J. H. Dunlap, has the principal portion of her cargo on board for New Orleans, and will have dispatch. This boat goes through without reshipping. Capt. Dunlap is a very popular officer and has many friends, and does credit to their friendship. Our old friend Captain Sharp Hemphill will be found in the office.

THE steamer Hawkeye State was built in this city some three years since for the Northern Line Packet Company, under the superintendence of Captain R. C. Gray. She was built for a business boat, but from the following, taken from the Dubuque Times, she has been doing some tall running: The Hawkeye State arrived at ten o'clock last night with a good trip—a large number of passengers being on board. She made remarkable time from Winona, having left that port at five o'clock in the morning—275 miles in 17 hours; 16 miles per hour.

THE Dubuque Herald of the 27th says:

A dispatch received yesterday announced to the friends of the late Henry Curtiss that his remains had been found at Hamilton, and would be brought to that city by the steamer Henderson, in the evening. A number of gentlemen, relatives and friends of the deceased, met the boat on her arrival and received the body.

The man who found the body is a laboring man, poor and a cripple, and the reward of $200 offered for the recovery of the body will very appropriately fall to him.

SATURDAY'S Louisville Journal says: The Alps was lying at the foot of the island at Portland yesterday evening, with her tow all ready for departure for New Orleans. It is an immense tow.

The James Battle, at one time a popular and fast passenger steamer running to and from Mobile, left that port on the 25th for New Albany, where her machinery will be used in a new boat. She used to be a clipper before the war, but had the reputation of being an expensive boat, and it is said that her owners never made a fortune with her.

The Commodore, recently purchased by the U. S. Government for $19,000, to be used as a Government snag-boat, has been entirely remodeled at Cincinnati and named the Gen. G. G. Totten. She will start next week for St. Louis or Memphis. Capt. C. E. Pierce is in command.

All the contracts for building the hulls and machinery for Government snag-boats have been officially confirmed. Dennis Long, of this city, has one contract, and a New Albany firm another.

THE J. M. WHITE.—A few days since we gave the dimensions of this famous steamer. In that notice we confined ourselves to facts and history. We stated that she run the channel of the river the entire way, and that she had to procure her fuel from the bank, as there were no wood flats at that time. The Louisville Courier undertakes to say, that the cut-offs are a disadvantage, and that the longest way round is the shortest. We confess we can't see it in that light; for instance, the Davis cut-off is less than halfa mile across and twelve miles round; boats can ascend this in thirty minutes. Can the Courier name any boat that can go around in that time? He further says, the White would not carry 500 tons of freight. The Courier man is hard to please. The Great Republic carries too much—the White too little. What next? When a boat is on a quick trip, she never carries anything but fuel. When will the Courier man speak another peace.

The Louisville Courier has called the Peytona a fast boat. Why don't he give us some facts? She was running the same time the White was, but never dared to leave port with that steamer. Captain Courere ran the White for two seasons, Captain J. C. Swan then took command. She made two trips per month between St. Louis and New Orleans. On one trip the J. M. White was announced to leave New Orleans on a certain day—the Peytona, Captain Shallcross, two days later. In order to convince the Louisville folks that the White was the fastest boat afloat, Captain J. C. Swan laid over and waited two days in order to come up with the Peytona; but it was no go, the Peytona refused to leave port. After waiting three days on the Peytona, the White was compelled to start by herself. Shallcross declared that he would lay there all season before he would start on the same day. Will the Courier tell us who showed the white feather? The Courier will no doubt deny this. We can prove all we have said, and more, too. Captain J. C. Swan is still living, and can vouch for what we have said.
